THE UNIVERSITY OF TENNESSEE

Vision:

The University of Tennessee intends to be the preeminent public research and teaching university linking the people of Tennessee to the nation and the world.

The University at a Glance

- An enrollment of 27,107
- More than 8,300 faculty and staff, including 1,400 instructional personnel
- 550-acre campus with 220 buildings
- More than 300 degree programs
- More than 300,000 alumni worldwide

The Hill

"The Hill," the original part of the campus, is symbolic of higher education in the state of Tennessee.

Torch Night

The model for Torch Night was a candlelight ceremony for seniors at the University of South Carolina that was adapted for UT Knoxville by Vic Davis, alumni secretary, and Ralph Frost, head of the campus YMCA.

Did you know?

- UT Knoxville is one of the "Best Value Colleges for 2010" according to The Princeton Review.
- UT Knoxville's nuclear engineering graduate program is ranked ninth in the country, according to the U.S. News and World Report 2001 graduate rankings.
- The Campaign for Tennessee, the most ambitious fundraising effort in the university's 214-year history, places UT among the ranks of the nation's largest public and private institutions that have sought this level of private support and topped the $1 billion mark.

Traditions - The Volunteer Statue

The spirit of University youth and its ideal of service, the statue was cast, placed in Circle Park, and unveiled on April 19, 1968.

LEADERSHIP

Derek Dooley

Head Coach

- Spent three years as head coach at Louisiana Tech, where he was the only major-college-level coach also serving as athletics director
- Led Tech to an 8-5 mark in 2008, highlighted by the school's first postseason victory in 30 years in a 17-10 Independence Bowl win over Northern Illinois
- Named Louisiana Sports Writers' Association 2008 Coach of the Year
- Served as assistant head coach at LSU under Nick Saban. Helped Tigers to 2003 national championship. Coached tight ends on Saban's Miami Dolphins staff

NEYLAND STADIUM

One of the game's greatest venues and a home-field advantage like no other

"That's the greatest stadium I've ever been in. I believe it's one of those places in college football where you say, 'It's one of the key benchmarks of what college football is supposed to be.'"
— John Robinson, legendary head coach, USC, UNLV

- Tennessee has led the SEC in attendance for a remarkable 36 consecutive seasons.
- The Vols have ridden Neyland Stadium crowds to 36 undefeated home seasons.
- The Home of the Vols has ranked in the top five nationally for an amazing 34 consecutive seasons.
- Neyland Stadium is the second-winningest home field in all of college football. The Vols boast 428 wins in Neyland Stadium since it was built in 1921.

"It is a remarkable experience. It starts with the Vol Walk down to the stadium, and the energy just builds and builds until you run through the T for kickoff."

— Jerod Mayo

"The big games I played in Neyland Stadium are right up there with the Super Bowl. It is still one of the most electric atmospheres I have ever experienced, and the passion of the fans is what makes the difference."

— Peyton Manning

Neyland Stadium is currently undergoing a multi-phase renovation that will prepare it to host U1 fans for years to come.

"I've been to LSU, Florida State and Texas and almost every other place that could be considered one of the toughest places to play. But we went down to Knoxville for a night game and that Tennessee crowd was the most impressive that I have ever faced. Neyland Stadium was just electric."
— Bob Davie, ESPN Game Analyst

"It's static noise. You can't hear anything. You go up and down the line — your wide receivers, your running backs, your tight ends — nobody can hear. Nobody."
— Nate Longshore, quarterback, California, 2006

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

Derek Dooley with his spring 2010 graduates

- Tennessee football has been among the leaders in the SEC each of the last six seasons with a total of 148 athletes being named to the SEC Academic Honor Roll.
- 19 football Vols were named to the Academic Honor Roll in 2009 in seven different academic disciplines.
- Eight current or former football players earned their degrees in the spring of 2010: Todd Campbell, Terry Fair, Cody Pope, Nick Reveiz, Luke Stocker, Victor Thomas, LaMarcus Thompson, and Tyler Wolf.
- Tennessee has eight players in program history named ESPN The Magazine Academic All-Americans.
- The William V. Campbell Award, referred to as the "Academic Heisman," has two UT athletes, Peyton Manning and Michael Munoz, on its all-time winners' list. The Vols are the only program in the nation to have two athletes win the award.
- The Thornton Athletics Student Life Center is a 33,000 square foot state-of-the-art facility for student-athletes that offers academic counseling services, career development programs, student development programs, comprehensive tutoring programs, a writing lab, math lab, computer lab, and accommodations for students with special needs.
- The Champs/Life Skills Program provides student-athletes with resources for future work, workshops on personal development issues, resume building and interviewing along with community service opportunities.
- The Renewing Academic Commitment (RAC) Program provides opportunities for former student athletes to return to campus to achieve their goal of graduation.

IN THE SPOTLIGHT

■ The SEC's new television contract with CBS and ESPN ensures that every Tennessee football game can be seen on national television.

- The Vols have had at least nine games televised every season since 1996.
- The last season Tennessee played fewer than seven conference games on television was 1994.
- Tennessee has played a non-conference game vs. a BCS opponent on national television in 10 of the last 11 seasons.
- Tennessee athletes have appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated 10 times.
- Former Vol Peyton Manning has appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated an additional eight times.

The Vols have served as campus host seven times for the ESPN College Gameday show.

THE BEST CONFERENCE IN AMERICA

- During the last four seasons, the SEC has won 25 bowl games, more than any other conference. During the 2009-10 bowl season, 10 SEC teams earned bowl bids, more than any other conference in the nation.
- In 2009, the SEC led all conferences with an 82.8 winning percentage against non-conference opponents. The SEC also achieved an all-time league-high 48 wins against non-conference teams in 2009.
- The SEC drew 6.5 million fans to its games in 2009 — one million more than any other conference.
- The SEC averaged 76,288 fans per game in 2009, which is the highest single-season average in NCAA history.
- The SEC's 371 all-time bowl appearances and 196 bowl wins are more than any other conference.
- The SEC had 49 players selected in the 2010 NFL Draft, more than any other conference. The SEC also leads the nation in athletes selected in the NFL Draft since 1990 with 788.

The SEC has the most extensive television package in the country, with nationally televised games on CBS and ESPN every week of the regular season.

Tennessee has been one of the SEC's top road teams since divisional play began in 1992. The Vols are 50-22 (.694) in that stretch.

Every year since the SEC expanded in 1992, the SEC has crowned its champion with Division I's first conference title game. Atlanta's Georgia Dome has played host to the game since 1994 and boasts 15 sellout crowds in 16 games played in the building. More than 1.3 million fans have witnessed the 18 total SEC Championship games in person.

The SEC is a sterling 6-0 in BCS national championship games since its inception in 1998 and the conference boasts eight national titles since the league expanded in 1992. The SEC is 14-5 overall in bowl games that now comprise the BCS.

A JANUARY TRADITION

- Tennessee has played in 48 bowl games, third-most in college football history.
- The Vols have 25 all-time bowl wins, the fifth-most in the nation.
- Tennessee has played in 12 January bowl games since 1993.
- The Vols first bowl game was the 1939 Orange Bowl, a 17-0 win over Oklahoma.
- The Big Orange has played in 14 different bowl games since 1939.
- Tennessee has played in the four bowls that now comprise the BCS a total of 16 times.

Tennessee tied its bowl record with six touchdowns in the 2002 Florida Citrus Bowl en route to a 45-17 thrashing of Michigan.

UT forced four turnovers to win a top-five battle against Ohio State, 20-14 in the 1996 Florida Citrus Bowl.

1999 BCS Championship Game, 23-16 over FSU

Tennessee's biggest bowl comeback was the rally from 16 points down to edge Virginia 23-22 in the 1991 Sugar Bowl.

1939 Orange Bowl, a 17-0 win over Oklahoma

Tennessee's largest margin of victory came in the Vols' 38-7 blitz of Texas A&M in the 2005 Cotton Bowl.

AT FULL STRENGTH

- The Vols' football strength and conditioning program is headed by Bennie Wylie, with the assistance of Steve Gottmaker, Medgar Harrison and Dan Hamilton.
- Wylie has established himself as one of the top strength coaches in the country.
- He comes to UT from Texas Tech, where in his last five seasons he helped the Red Raiders produce a 46-18 record that was third-best in the Big 12.
- Prior to his stint in Lubbock, Wylie worked as assistant strength and conditioning coach with the Dallas Cowboys for four seasons.

TENNESSEE PRO DAY

- Tennessee's Pro Day gives NFL scouts an opportunity to view potential UT NFL prospects each year by putting them through a series of strength, speed and agility tests prior to April's NFL Draft.
- The Tennessee Pro Day utilizes the field turf surface and Percy Strength Facility inside the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center to create a comfortable environment to set up participants for success.
- Tennessee head coach Derek Dooley advocates the opportunity for NFL scouts to catch a first-hand glimpse of Vols, as it's a pivotal step in taking their playing careers to the next level.

AN NFL EDUCATION

Tennessee is committed to preparing its football players for the NFL Draft through the NFL education program developed by head coach Derek Dooley. The program offers the Vols a chance to hear from professionals in the ranks of the NFL, who visit with rising seniors and their families to talk about the NFL Draft. In April 2009, former UT and NFL lineman Tim Irwin, Kansas City Chiefs scout Pat Sperduto, New York Jets defensive lineman Shaun Ellis and former UT and NFL defensive back Terry Fair visited campus.

Shaun Ellis

SPORTS MEDICINE AND NUTRITION

- The Tim Kerin Sports Medicine Facility is more than 8,000 square feet and features the most modern equipment available on the market for injury diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation.
- Tennessee also has full-time physicians on staff and an on-site pharmacy.
- Tennessee's sports medicine and nutrition staffs boast a combined 43 years of experience in the field.
- Jason McVeigh has been a member of the UT Sports Medicine staff since 1999 and enters his fifth season as Director of Sports Medicine.
- The UT Sports Medicine department includes the addition of a Team Physician's Clinic, on-site X-ray, baseline echocardiograms and concussion testing for all student-athletes, development of Team EXCEL, a revised substance abuse testing policy and procedure, and an expanded state-of-the-art physical therapy clinic.
- Allison Maurer is one of only 17 full-time sports nutritionists at the NCAA Division I level.
- Andrika Langham (below left) provides a chef's touch while making sure the Vols eat right.

VOLUNTEERING IN THE COMMUNITY

The Tennessee football program has a long-standing tradition of giving back to the Knoxville community that has supported it so strongly over the years. The community service projects are not required of the athletes, but they have always been interested in participating. The players earn the right to go into the community through their actions on the field, in the classroom and on campus.

Tennessee football's community service initiatives last season included:

- Visiting the East Tennessee Children's Hospital and the University of Tennessee Medical Center.
- Assisting with the construction of a Habitat for Humanity home.
- Traveling to local schools to read to children.
- Purchasing, wrapping and giving Christmas gifts to underprivileged middle school students as a part of Teams for Toys.
- Playing with children who survived cancer at Kids Carnival.
- Making an educational video for children regarding the importance of recycling.
- Hosting an April Play Day for the Knoxville Boys and Girls Club at Thompson-Boling Arena

FIVE-STAR FACILITIES

- Tennessee boasts one of the nation's most extensive football facilities in the nation. The Big Orange have a full-length indoor practice field inside the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center and an additional 150 yards of practice fields outdoors at the disposal.
- Every gameday, the Vols dress in the recently remodeled Peyton Manning Locker Complex at Neyland Stadium. The remodel included updates to structural components, larger lockers and complete update to all the equipment and training rooms.
- A recent addition to the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center is the players' lounge adjacent to the locker room. Added in 2009, this space features theatre-style area with a projection television, pool tables, computer workstations and a kitchen.

WINNING WITH CHARACTER

A comprehensive player enhancement program to develop the person outside of football

Former Vols defensive back Andre Lott is the new Vol for Life/Character Education Coordinator. He has begun working with UT's football student-athletes to further their personal growth through the newly-created program centered on four areas: character education, life skills, career development and spiritual growth.

Andre Lott
VFL / Character Education Coordinator

"Andre represents everything it means to be a 'Vol for Life.' He excelled at the highest level on the playing field in the SEC and the NFL, and did so as a man of high character and principles."

Harris' Timeless Prose Will Be Missed

For years – longer than many of us have followed Tennessee football – this space was reserved for one man who poured his heart and soul, and fortunately for us his typewriter, into the University of Tennessee. Haywood Harris' black and white words were the rites of fall in Big Orange Country for media and Vol fans alike in the way only he could shed light on Tennessee's upcoming season.

Haywood's no-nonsense, barber shop style of prose was timeless. From the excitement of a new coach to the veterans he worked with over the seasons to even the General, Haywood made most folks feel good about the Vols' possibilities and welcome in Neyland Stadium. An example from this very space in 1961, his first season after being hired as sports information director by Gen. Bob Neyland, speaks just as true today as it did then:

To The Press, Radio and TV:

This is your 1961 Tennessee football brochure. It is published for your information. I hope it will help you in your coverage of the Volunteers this season. I realize that it does not answer all of the questions, but perhaps it will be some help. For any additional information, pictures, and what have you, write, wire, or telephone and I will do my best to take care of your needs ...

Haywood, a fixture in the Tennessee athletic department since that '61 season, died this summer. He was 80.

Haywood Harris (1929-2010)

So, as Haywood would have it, some attempt will be made to provide a decent peek at Tennessee's 2010 football team.

With a legend like Haywood leaving us, it's ironic that a new coach will monitor the sidelines this season. There's nothing quite like that fresh start. And first-year man Derek Dooley has his hands full having the daunting task of replacing the offensive line, the quarterback and the running back. On defense, his squad will take up the gap left by All-America safety Eric Berry.

But Dooley is ready for the challenge. He embraced Tennessee's rich heritage first, and then secured a strong recruiting class for a foundation of discipline and, hopefully, winning. Spring Practice was a chance to establish expectation and flesh out any questions while injuries from last season healed.

And so here we are, time for action. No matter the recent rough patch on Rocky Top, it's a new day in Knoxville with Dooley and his SEC coaching pedigree.

So here's to Derek Dooley in his first year leading the Vols. Welcome to the family. The words, facts and figures that follow can catch fans up on all the rest of the Tennessee traditions and players thanks to Bud Ford, John Painter and the rest of the sports information staff that are sure to be of assistance in other ways.

And here's to Haywood Harris, a UT legend that left more memories than a late-October victory. His space in this brochure can't be replaced; we can only hope it makes sense like he would have done it.

We're gonna miss you, Haywood.

Accompanying the first cool breezes of September is the start of the most enjoyable byproduct of autumn — the college football season.

On The Hill, the curtain rises on the Derek Dooley era at UT. With a Southern coaching pedigree, Dooley and his Volunteers look to face the challenges awaiting them head on.

Quarterback

The departure of Jonathan Crompton to the NFL and also the loss of Nick Stephens by transfer left the quarterback position wide open during spring drills.

Those departures placed transfer Matt Simms in the spotlight early. He progressed nicely in his first workouts with the Vols and was beginning to work with the first team just before Stephens left. Simms is a 6-3 junior who came to Tennessee out of El Camino Community College in California where he threw for 2,204 yards and 17 touchdowns, so game experience is his advantage.

Also in the mix is freshman Tyler Bray, who was an early enrollee in January and saw plenty of action during spring practice. He started opposite Simms in the Orange and White Game and led his squad to a 16-7 victory, completing 18-of-40 for 200 yards and a touchdown.

Tailback

One of the most difficult holes to fill for Tennessee will be the consistency of Montario Hardesty and his 1,345 yards that he collected last season carrying the ball. And the quest to find a replacement may be an extended battle.

The platoon of junior Tauren Poole and sophomore David Oku saw action in 13 games last season -- most via special teams -- and one is likely to emerge as the frontrunner for inheriting the load at tailback. Oku ranked third in rushing for the Vols last year with 94 net yards and a 4.1 yards per carry average. Poole was fourth on that list with 10 attempts for 85 yards.

Oku made his mark as a return specialist on kickoffs, giving him plenty of field experience. But Poole's explosiveness at times makes him a big-play threat waiting to happen.

The Vols have made a habit of scoring on the ground. Fourteen of Tennessee's touchdowns came from the ground last season. Tennessee's rushing offense (157.2 yards per game) ranked ninth in the SEC despite Hardesty's numbers.

So the shoes will be difficult to fill. Of course, the same was said the previous season and Hardesty put up numbers that rank among the best in school history.

Fullback

The lone spot of experience in the offensive battery for Tennessee is at fullback. And that's a good thing for the Vols.

Kevin Cooper established himself as a receiving threat by catching 12 balls and averaging 9.2 yards per catch last year. With his blocking and catching tuned in, he's a dual threat and the only returning starter in the backfield for UT.

The senior brings a big target out of the backfield at 6-foot, 242 pounds. He also caught seven passes in 2008 and has quietly developed into another target for the Vols from a throwing standpoint. His blocking has also been key as he's appeared in every game for the last two seasons. It's allowed him to develop into a reliable rock in the backfield.

Freshman Channing Fugate showed promise during spring practice at the second-team spot with junior letterman Sam Edgmon providing depth.

Austin Johnson, who played fullback last year and caught six passes for an 11.3-yard average, has switched to linebacker and earned the Andy Spiva Award as defensive surprise of spring practice.

Still, the blocking and ball catching is a good safety valve for Tennessee. With focus on its receiving corps and questions at running back, the fullbacks may just be able to provide the paths for success on both roads.

Wide Receiver

With other prime positions on offense preparing to reload, the rock on the scoring side of the ball is the receiving corps – with experience and statistics to back it.

Gerald Jones comes back as one of Tennessee's senior leaders. Playing in 12 of the 13 games last season, he led the Vols with 46 catches and 680 yards (an average of 14.8 yards per catch). His 51-yard strike against Georgia last year was the highlight as a season-long for Tennessee.

On the other side of the line is Denarius Moore. The senior caught 40 balls for 540 yards last year. He gained 13.5 yards each catch. It all adds up to more than 100 yards per game returning at the starting receiver positions for Tennessee. And the backups aren't slackers.

Marsalis Teague was explosive as a freshman last season (13 catches, two touchdowns) and he'll be mentoring a crop of freshmen this season that will only strengthen the depth chart at wideout for the Vols.

Zach Rogers is another sophomore returning letterman.

Four new receivers will suit up for Tennessee this fall, two of which (Matt Milton and Ted Meline) were early enrollees in January. The good thing is they'll have a pair of senior starters and a pair of experienced sophomores to lead the way. Perhaps the better thing is they have the talent to walk in and begin contributing from the opener.

Tight End

The headliner this season will be on receiver, a position deep and experienced. But that doesn't include a vital aspect of the pass-catching game.

Solidifying the receiving half of the pitch-catch connection at Tennessee is the tight end position. Last year the Vols used the tight end as a critical weapon, particularly in Red Zone situations. And the results were positive.

Senior Luke Stocker returns as the big gamer of the bunch. Stocker showed his nimbleness last season with 29 catches for 389 yards – third on the team among those returning – and five touchdowns.

Stocker was the go-to guy when the Vols were sniffing the end zone and will be a big target in short-yardage situations this year.

Ben Bartholomew is also back for the Vols, bringing two years of experience to the position.

Center

The anchor. The cog. The middleman. Whatever you want to call him, Tennessee's newest center will have big shoes to fill.

Last season, Cody Sullins elevated from scarcely used backup to a rock as the Vols' center. Prior to the 2009 campaign, Sullins had never started a game for UT. He started all 13 of them last year as snapper.

To say consistency in the middle will be missed is an understatement. Prior to Sullins' streak last season, Josh McNeil had started the previous 35 games as Tennessee's center but an injury in the fall set him back and thrust Sullins into the role.

Now the Vols look for a replacement. Junior Cody Pope did see action in three games last year in the offensive line and has a 6-6, 290-pound frame that could help move the chains.

With a lack of depth at the position, coaches moved senior Victor Thomas from defensive tackle to offense with the potential for him to earning playing time at center. Thomas brings a much-needed plate of experience to the Vols' offensive line with his game experience as part of the defensive line rotation.

Offensive Guard

A young offensive line will bear weight this season, particularly at the guard position. Still, the run blockers have Tennessee's most experienced bulldozer paving the way.

Jarrod Shaw comes to the line having played in eight games last season and collecting three starts early in the season.

He began last year at the tackle spot, but injuries forced him to slide over into the left guard position against Ohio. That worked as Montario Hardesty rushed for 140 yards in the Vols' 34-23 victory.

Shaw, at 6-foot-4 and 331 pounds, has stayed put at guard for this season as Tennessee attempts to piece together a list of new faces on the line. At guard, Shaw is the only returning letterman.

Aside from Shaw, Tennessee will put its stock in a list of freshmen. JerQuari Schofield and his 6-foot-6, 331-pound frame gives the Vols a highly rated blocker at the tackle position and enters fall camp as the starter at left guard.

Sophomore Carson Anderson, who saw limited game action last season, and redshirt freshman Kevin Revis may have found a home as reserve guards.

Offensive Tackle

The search for experience and consistency seen in other parts of the offensive line doesn't skip the tackle positions. Tennessee returns just one letterman in Dallas Thomas. The sophomore, however, saw most of his action last season on special teams units, working with both field goal and extra point units.

Pencil in Ja'Wuan James as the lead contender for a starting position as well. He was an early enrollee in the spring and has the benefit of working with the team through spring drills.

Local freshman Daniel Hood also could get looks at a tackle spot, after spending part of spring at center, as could Chase Phillips. Hood joined Revis as members of the SEC Freshman Academic Honor Roll.

Defensive End

The pass rushing skills of Chris Walker are back as the Vols will boast experience and seniority at the defensive tackle position.

Walker comes back for his senior season at Tennessee after posting a team-high six sacks last year as part of his 42 tackles from right end. His speed and ability to break through into the backfield will be relied upon heavily by UT as the Vols return a large chunk of talent on defense.

On the left side of the line, senior Ben Martin holds down the end position after collecting 38 tackles and 3.5 sacks in 2009.

Also in the mix for time at the end positions will be senior Gerald Williams and sophomore Willie Bohannon, as well as early enrollees Jacques Smith and Corey Miller. The depth and experience give Tennessee a strong anchor to bookend the defensive line and keep pressure on opponents.

Defensive Tackle

Gone are roadblocks Dan Williams, an All-American performer last season, and Wes Brown, one of the toughest men in orange. The two anchored the middle of the defensive line last season.

The Vols turn to a pair of sophomores in Montori Hughes and Marlon Walls. Hughes played in all 13 games last year, collecting 20 tackles. Walls saw limited action in seven games and had a pair of tackles. Still, they bring the experience to stop the middle. They'll have some talent coming in to help.

A pair of former defensive ends in Rae Sykes and Steven Fowlkes have been moved to tackle to provide bulk and depth.

Linebackers

As the Vols look to reload on go-to playmakers on both offense and defense, the linebacker position is one that may have improved over last year. That's because everyone is healthy again.

Senior middle linebacker Nick Reveiz is back from a season-ending injury last year. When he got hurt, he was among the team leaders in tackles and regarded as one of the primary emotional leaders of the team. That didn't stop even with him on the sidelines, so with a helmet on once again it can only benefit the squad. He missed spring practice as he continued to rehabilitate his knee, but he kept up his sideline presence and will be a much-needed familiar face this fall.

The same goes for Savion Frazier, who stepped in to fill Reveiz's shoes. Frazier's season was also cut short by injury, yet he still finished with 38 tackles. He's back for his senior year, as is LaMarcus Thompson, who missed time due to injury as well.

■ Ben Martin (above) and Chris Walker are two of the Vols' six returning starters on the defensive side. The two ends combined for 80 tackles and 9.5 sacks in 2009, with Walker leading the squad with six sacks.

Add to that trio the emergence of sophomore Herman Lathers, who earned Freshman All-SEC last year and is the Vols' top returning tackler. He also shares the starter's position at weakside linebacker with Frazier heading into fall camp.

Greg King and Nigel Mitchell-Thornton saw significant playing time last season, with King earning a pair of starts after injuries struck the position in mid-season. Austin Johnson made an impact during spring drills after his move from offense.

Cornerback

Art Evans returns as a starter and will hold the right side of the defensive backfield for Tennessee. His 39 tackles last year was the most among returning players in the entire secondary. A ding kept him out of the starting lineup against Kentucky last season, but otherwise he was a concrete performer after earning his spot through hard work.

In-state standout Eric Gordon vaulted to the top of the depth chart in spring drills and appears ready to handle that area of the field.

Lettermen returning include local product Anthony Anderson (nine tackles last year) and Stephau Raines (10 tackles last year). Both will battle for time on the left side as well as a backup plan for Evans and Gordon.

Safety

One of Tennessee's most decorated players in recent times, Eric Berry's departure for the NFL leaves a large hole to fill in the defensive secondary. Berry earned All-America status during his stellar junior season and won the Jim Thorpe Award as the top defensive back in college football while ranking second on the team in tackles with 119.

So how does that hole in talent get filled? Sophomore Janzen Jackson is a huge start.

Jackson is back for his second year as a starter at safety. In 10 games last season Jackson tallied 37 tackles. Against South Carolina he had seven tackles, forced a fumble and broke up two passes to earn SEC Defensive Freshman of the Week.

Joining him atop the depth chart at safety is sophomore Darren Myles Jr. Myles appeared in seven games last season.

The Vols also return a list of talent that saw action at safety, including Tyler Wolf, who played in 12 games last season and collected 10 tackles.

Specialists

Chad Cunningham and Daniel Lincoln have one more go at it for the Vols and are in search of consistent senior seasons.

Cunningham averaged 42.1 yards per punt and improved his kickoff distances last year. Lincoln struggled some as the placekicker late in the season due to a nagging leg injury that prevented him from getting height on his kicks. He was 10-of-16 on field goals, and five of his misses were from 40 yards or more.

In the return game last year, backup running back David Oku handled most of the kickoff returns, averaging 26.2 yards per return and totaling 863 yards. His increased role carrying the ball out of the backfield may force Dooley and staff to look elsewhere for depth.

Derek Dooley may own a rival's pedigree, but to Tennessee fans he felt just like one of their own when the Vols introduced him as the school's 22nd head coach in January.

Dooley, 41, comes to UT after three seasons as head coach at Louisiana Tech, where he also served as athletics director since March 2008. He was the only athletics director serving as head football coach on the major college level.

But it is his family lineage where Tennessee and Southeastern Conference football fans make the connection. Dooley is the youngest son of Georgia legend Vince Dooley, who coached the Bulldogs for 25 seasons and claimed six league titles and the 1980 national championship.

And yet Tennessee's Dooley sounds right at home on Rocky Top.

"As most of you know, I grew up in this conference," he said. "I grew up in the SEC. It didn't take me long as a youngster to realize that Tennessee was the essence of college football. Even as a young kid, watching the team run through the 'T,' when you see checkerboard end zones and, of course, hear 'Rocky Top' – those were vivid memories as a youngster."

Dooley never accepted the predetermined path to success. He played his college football at Virginia, turning down scholarship offers elsewhere to walk on and later earn his own scholarship from Cavaliers head coach George Welsh.

As a wide receiver, Dooley earned that scholarship after his second season and went on to help the Cavaliers to three bowl appearances and the 1989 Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

In 1990, he was named first team Academic All-ACC and helped Virginia to a Sugar Bowl bid against Tennessee.

During his UVa career, Dooley caught 41 passes for 604 yards and three touchdowns. His level of play was such in the 1990 season that he was invited to and participated in the Senior Bowl.

He graduated that year with a bachelor's degree in government and foreign affairs, and then went on to earn his law degree from the University of Georgia in 1994.

Then after a successful start to the legal profession, Dooley switched gears and returned to his love of football. Four short years later, he latched onto the staff of Nick Saban at LSU and moved into the fast lane of the SEC. After five successful seasons that included the 2003 national championship, Dooley moved with Saban to the NFL's Miami Dolphins.

"I really thrived in his way of doing things," Dooley said of Saban. "I'm very grateful for the opportunity he gave me in wearing so many hats, coaching different positions, coordinating recruiting and coordinating special teams, assistant head coach -- he really allowed me to blossom as a young coach."

But rather than remain in that comfort zone, Dooley again chose his own path toward success -- a path that returned him to the state of Louisiana.

"There was a part of me that said stay in your comfort zone, sit tight, and, hopefully, one day it (head coaching job) would come," Dooley said. "That really isn't who I am, and I felt I needed to develop more to be ready when I got this opportunity."

Dooley was named to his first head coaching position by Louisiana Tech in December 2006, and immediately began laying the foundation for future success. Included in his 17-20 overall record was an 8-5 mark in 2008 highlighted by the school's first postseason victory in 30 years at the Independence Bowl. Tech finished second in the WAC that season and played in a bowl game for only the third time since joining the major college ranks in 1989.

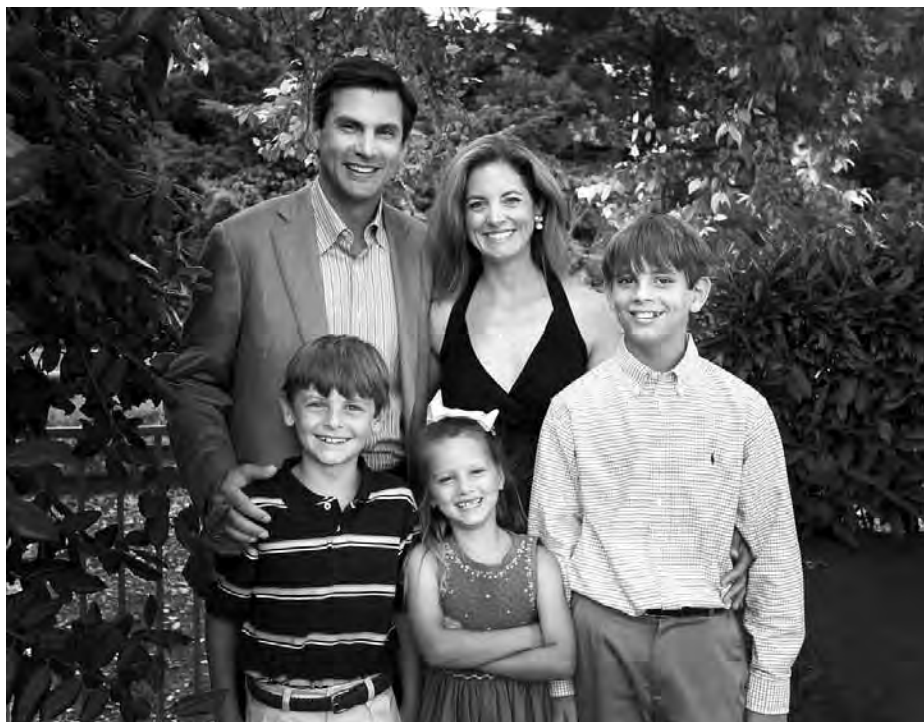

For his efforts, the Louisiana Sports Writers' Association named him 2008 Coach of the Year.

"I am certain that I'm a better and more qualified candidate by doing what I did the last three years," Dooley said. "I did take a little bit of a risk. I took the head coaching job at Louisiana Tech. It was a program that had been struggling, it was a program that hadn't made a lot of investment in football, and I'm very proud of the improvements we made in all phases."

Tennessee Director of Athletics Mike Hamilton, always a visionary, saw in Dooley a rising star on the sidelines who could fit right away into his rugged SEC surroundings.

"Derek is one of the bright young coaches in America," Hamilton said. "He understands our league and the competitive environment in which we compete. He took a very difficult first head coaching job and made significant strides there in a short period of time."

"He is incredibly bright, a tireless recruiter and excellent on-the-field coach."

Dooley began his coaching career in 1996 as a graduate assistant at Georgia under defensive coordinator Joe Kines. He then served from 1997-99 as wide receivers coach and co-recruiting coordinator at SMU, where Dooley helped the Mustangs to the school's only winning season over a 20-year stretch.

Dooley joined the staff at LSU under Saban in 2000, serving as recruiting coordinator and tight ends coach from 2000-02 and then running backs coach and special teams coordinator from 2003-04. While LSU's recruiting coordinator, Dooley helped the Tigers land No. 1 classes in 2001 and 2003.

The Tigers won SEC championships both of those seasons, claimed the BCS national championship in 2003, and Saban promoted Dooley to assistant head coach for the 2004 campaign.

Under Dooley's tutelage, running back Justin Vincent set an LSU freshman record by rushing for 1,001 yards in 2003. He went on to be named MVP of both the SEC Championship Game as well as the Sugar Bowl, during which LSU claimed the BCS national title.

In 2004, the Tigers finished first in the SEC in rushing (193.8 yards per game), led by Alley Broussard (867 yards, 6.1 avg.) and Joseph Addai (680 yards, 6.7 avg.), a first-round draft choice of Indianapolis in 2006.

Dooley left with Saban to serve as tight ends coach for the Dolphins from 2005-06. During his two years in Miami, Dooley oversaw the continued development of tight end Randy McMichael, who ended his Dolphins career as the all-time leader in receptions by a tight end.

Before embarking on his coaching career, Dooley practiced law at a private law firm in Atlanta for two years.

Dooley is married to Dr. Allison Jeffers Dooley, an OB/GYN and Fort Worth, Texas, native. They have two sons, John Taylor (11) and Peyton (8), and a daughter, Julianna (6).

Allison is active in fundraising and leadership for the Susan G. Komen Foundation for breast cancer research.

What They're Saying About Derek Dooley

"Derek is exactly what I hoped he would be. As far as I am concerned, he has exceeded everyone's expectations, including the 65,000 alumni (at Louisiana Tech). He is making people stand up and take notice of Louisiana Tech. What we have is a man who has a vision for this program and this university; he wants to make it something special. He has a plan. It is an energetic, aggressive plan, and I could not be more proud to have him as our AD and our football coach."

Terry Bradshaw, former Louisiana Tech and Pittsburgh Steelers Quarterback

"Coach Dooley is such a bright person. He's made me a better person on and off the field. He's made me focus every day on every aspect of the game. As a coach, he makes you the best player you can possibly be. He'll coach you like you've never been coached, and he'll push you to your maximum potential. He is a phenomenal teacher."

Randy McMichael, St. Louis Rams Tight End

"He's the kind of coach that's got a lot of energy, and he's somebody that you can relate to on a personal level. He's great at giving advice while being upbeat at the same time. There aren't many coaches that will let you have fun while getting the job done at the same time. He has the ability to get that out of you."

Joseph Addai, Indianapolis Colts Running Back

"I really admire and look up to him. Not only is he a great coach, but he is a great man. He comes from a background of tradition of winning, and he represents what you expect from in a coach. You can believe and fully trust him. He is a high-character man and a player's coach."

Jim Chaney helped turn around the Tennessee offense in 2009, producing a terrific rushing and passing combination that improved the unit's total offensive output by better than 50 percent from the year before his arrival.

Chaney's efforts saw tailback Montario Hardesty approach UT's season rushing record before finishing with 1,345 yards, and quarterback Jonathan Crompton pass for the second-most touchdowns, 27, in the SEC.

Chaney arrived in Knoxville from the NFL ranks, having spent the three previous seasons as assistant coach for the St. Louis Rams.

The majority of Chaney's coaching experience, however, comes from the collegiate ranks. His coaching and recruiting turns at Purdue, Wyoming and Cal State Fullerton made him the perfect fit for Tennessee.

Chaney spent all three years in St. Louis coaching the offensive line before adding tight ends to his assignment sheet in 2008. During the 2007 campaign, Chaney helped coach an offensive line that led running back Steven Jackson to his third consecutive 1,000-yard season.

Possessing one of college football's best offensive minds, Chaney helped the Boilermakers lead the Big Ten in passing offense five times and total offense three.

Purdue was ranked in the top 10 in the nation in total offense for six seasons, including 2000, when the Boilermakers ranked fourth.

Chaney served as the offensive coordinator at Purdue from 1997-2005.

Quarterback Drew Brees, a second-round draft pick by the San Diego Chargers in 2001, was the NCAA total offense champion in 2000, averaging 349.1 yards per game, and received the Maxwell Award as the nation's outstanding player. Tim Stratton received the inaugural John Mackey Award as the nation's best tight end in 2000.

More importantly, the 2000 combination of Chaney and Brees under head coach Joe Tillier led Purdue to its first Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl berth in 33 years.

From 1997-2001, Chaney served as recruiting coordinator and helped the Boilermakers sign some of the country's top high school talent. The 1998 class was ranked second in the Big Ten and 11th nationally. Each of Chaney's last five classes was in the top 30 nationally.

Before his Purdue tenure, Chaney was offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at Wyoming in 1995 and 1996. He joined the Cowboys in 1993 as a graduate assistant, working with the tight ends and recruiting.

Chaney broke into coaching at Cal State Fullerton in 1985. He served in many areas, including offensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator as well as coaching all offensive positions. Chaney had a stint as the offensive line coach at Western Michigan during the spring of 1988 before returning to Cal State Fullerton.

Chaney, a native of Holden, Mo., earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Central Missouri State in 1985 after a career at nose guard, where he earned All-Conference honors as a senior.

He is married to Lisa, who hails from Rock Springs, Wyo., and they are the parents of daughters Elizabeth and Sara.

Justin Wilcox comes to the Vols from Boise State, where for the last four seasons he served as defensive coordinator and helped the Broncos blast their way into the elite of college football. In 2009, Boise State completed a perfect 14-0 season with a Fiesta Bowl victory over TCU.

That victory lifted Boise State's record to 49-4 in four seasons with Wilcox at the defensive helm under head coach Chris Petersen.

Wilcox, 33, made his mark on the national defensive rankings this past season, guiding the Broncos to a No. 14 statistical finish in both total defense and scoring defense and a No. 3 showing in turnover margin.

Boise State bookended the season with two of its most impressive victories, clamping down on Pac-10 Conference champion Oregon 19-8 to start the year and then closing with the 17-10 triumph over previously undefeated TCU at the Fiesta Bowl.

The Broncos of 2008 were nearly as tough, finishing 12-1 and winning their second Western Athletic Conference championship in three seasons. Wilcox's defense ranked third nationally in scoring, allowing just 12.6 points per game and holding eight of its 13 opponents to 10 points or fewer.

Boise State led the WAC in total defense and scoring defense all four seasons under Wilcox.

Wilcox coached six seasons overall in Boise, also working as a graduate assistant for the Broncos from 2001-02. Among his prized stalwarts were defensive end Ryan Winterswyk and defensive back Kyle Wilson, both of whom twice earned All-WAC first team nods.

In both 2007 and 2006, the Broncos also led the WAC in rushing defense. Boise State was eighth nationally against the run during Wilcox's debut season as defensive coordinator, and his overall defensive scheme was instrumental in helping that 2006 squad to a 13-0 record and the now-famous 43-42 overtime win over Oklahoma in the Fiesta Bowl.

Before returning to Boise State as defensive coordinator, Wilcox spent three seasons (2003-05) at California as linebackers coach. Wilcox was credited with turning his linebackers into a unit that epitomized the Cal defense's swarm-to-the-ball philosophy, and the Golden Bears went to three straight bowls and combined for a 26-12 record.

In his two seasons as a graduate assistant at Boise State, Wilcox worked with the Broncos' outside linebackers. He helped Boise State to an upset victory over No. 8 Fresno State in 2001 and a 12-1 record and No. 15 national ranking in 2002.

The Junction City, Ore., native played collegiately at Oregon from 1995-99 and was a part of four Ducks teams that advanced to bowl games. He played in the 1997 Las Vegas, 1998 Aloha, and 1999 Sun bowls. He redshirted in 1995 when Oregon participated in the Cotton Bowl.

His first three years were spent at safety before he moved to cornerback as a senior in 1999 and claimed All-Pac-10 second-team honors. Wilcox earned his bachelor's degree in anthropology from Oregon in 1999.

Wilcox is the son of Dave Wilcox, an All-Pro linebacker for the San Francisco 49ers who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 2000.

NFL veteran Charlie Baggett, who has coached nine 1,000-yard receivers in the professional ranks, will serve as Tennessee's assistant head coach and wide receivers coach.

Baggett brings 33 years of coaching experience to the Vols, including 11 seasons as an NFL assistant.

Baggett had just completed his first season with the St. Louis Rams when Vols head coach Derek Dooley selected him for UT's assistant head coach.

Baggett previously was at the University of Washington, where he coached wide receivers from 2007-08. Baggett was associate head coach/offense and wide receivers coach for the Miami Dolphins from 2005-06.

Under Baggett, Dolphins wide receiver Chris Chambers recorded the most productive season of his career in 2005, catching 82 passes for 1,118 yards and 11 touchdowns and becoming the first Dolphins wide receiver to be named to the Pro Bowl since Irving Fryar in 1994.

He was wide receivers coach for the Minnesota Vikings from 2000-04, coaching Cris Carter and Randy Moss. In the first four seasons of Baggett's tenure, Moss had 376 receptions for 5,649 yards and 49 touchdowns, all of which ranked in the top three in the NFL. Carter caught 169 passes before retiring after the 2001 season. Carter (2000) and Moss (2000, 2002-03) earned four Pro Bowl invitations.

Baggett came to the Vikings following the 1999 season at Green Bay, where Packers receivers Antonio Freeman and Bill Schroeder each surpassed 1,000 yards and combined for 148 catches.

Baggett was associate head coach/wide receivers coach at his alma mater, Michigan State University, from 1995-98, his second stint at the school, having also served the Spartans from 1983-92 as wide receivers coach (1983-84, 1986-87, 1990-92) and as running backs coach (1985, 1988-89).

In 14 seasons and two tenures at Michigan State, Baggett guided such future NFL players as Andre Rison, Mark Ingram, Plaxico Burress, Lorenzo White, Muhsin Muhammad, Daryl Turner, Derrick Mason, and Courtney Hawkins.

Baggett made his NFL coaching debut with the Houston Oilers, tutoring receivers from 1993-94. In his first season with the team, Oilers receivers Haywood Jefferies and Webster Slaughter were named to the Pro Bowl.

■ Charlie Baggett, in his first year at Tennessee as assistant head coach, is pictured with his wife, Lisa. A former quarterback, Baggett is no stranger to coaching wide receivers. He did so for 11 seasons in the NFL.

Baggett began his collegiate playing career at the University of North Carolina in 1971 before transferring to Michigan State, where he started at quarterback for three seasons (1973-75).

Baggett was with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the CFL in 1976 before beginning his coaching career, overseeing wide receivers and running backs at Bowling Green in 1977. Baggett moved on to coach wide receivers at the University of Minnesota from 1981-82.

Assistant coach Harry Hiestand (pronounced HE-stand) comes to the Vols after five seasons as offensive line coach with the Chicago Bears, where he helped the NFL franchise to its first Super Bowl appearance in 21 years.

Before that, Hiestand coached 17 seasons at four different major college schools, the longest tenure being eight seasons as offensive line coach and assistant head coach at Illinois.

"It's a great opportunity," Hiestand said. "Being around campus, Coach Dooley and the staff that's here, you can tell they are committed to doing the right thing, winning football games and having quality people. I'm excited to be a part of what Coach Dooley's putting together here."

The 51-year-old has been coaching offensive linemen and tight ends since 1982, when he began as a student assistant at his alma mater of East Stroudsburg University. In Chicago, Hiestand molded units that were known for their physical play in the run game and ability to protect the quarterback. The NFC-champion Bears of 2006 attempted 539 passes while permitting just 25 sacks, and the 2008 squad attempted 557 passes and absorbed just 29 sacks.

During his Illinois days, Hiestand coached 12 All-Big Ten Conference selections on the offensive line. Every starting offensive lineman in Hiestand's first seven years with the Illini made it to an NFL training camp. He served as Ron Turner's assistant head coach from 2000-04.

Hiestand joined Illinois in 1997 after spending three seasons at Missouri. Prior to his stint as offensive line coach with the Tigers, he coached the same position at Cincinnati for five seasons (1989-93) and also was run-game coordinator in 1992 and offensive coordinator in 1993.

Hiestand coached tight ends and assisted with the offensive line at Toledo in 1988, was a graduate assistant at Southern California in 1987, and tight ends and assistant offensive line coach at Pennsylvania in 1986.

He became a full-time assistant coach at East Stroudsburg in 1983, staying four years at the Division II school. That was after injuries ended his playing days, which had begun at Springfield College in Massachusetts before he transferred. Hiestand earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education from East Stroudsburg in 1983.

The Malvern, Pa., native and his wife, Terri, have three sons, Michael, Matthew and Mark, and one daughter, Sarah.

Darin Hinshaw, Tennessee's first-year quarterbacks coach, was a record-setting quarterback during his collegiate playing days and spent the last three seasons as wide receivers coach at Memphis on the staff of Tommy West.

His two star pupils -- Duke Calhoun and Carlos Singleton -- ended their Memphis careers in 2009 as the top two wideouts in school history. Calhoun finished with school records of 212 receptions and 2,981 yards, while adding 19 TDs to tie for second all-time in Tigers history in that category. Singleton's 22 career touchdowns are a Memphis record and his 164 career receptions for 2,365 yards both are second on the U of M charts behind Calhoun.

Hinshaw, 37, joined the Memphis staff after serving one season as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Georgia Southern under former head coach Brian VanGorder. In 2006, Georgia Southern ranked 27th nationally in total offense, averaging 359.9 yards per game.

Prior to his brief Georgia Southern stint, Hinshaw worked at Middle Tennessee for five seasons. He was the running backs coach his first two seasons before being elevated to co-offensive coordinator in February 2003.

Under Hinshaw's guidance, the MTSU offense consistently led the Sun Belt Conference and was among the nation's statistical leaders. A highlight was in 2003, when the Blue Raiders offense was the highest scoring unit in the league at 27.7 points a contest.

Hinshaw made his way to Middle Tennessee from Central Florida, his alma mater, after serving on Mike Kruczek's staff. A record-setting quarterback during his playing days for the Knights, Hinshaw spent the 1999 campaign as a graduate assistant before taking over the quarterback coaching duties in 2000.

The Punta Gorda, Fla., native set numerous school records for the Knights. He finished as the career leader in every major passing category, including yards (9,000) and touchdowns (82). During his time under center, UCF had a combined 28-16 record, including a 9-3 mark in 1993 that resulted in a berth in the Division I-AA playoffs.

Hinshaw was named in 2004 to UCF's 25th Anniversary Team.

Following his playing days at UCF, Hinshaw began a career in pro football. After a brief stint with the Cleveland Browns, he spent two years with the Orlando Predators of the Arena Football League, one in the Eastern Football League, and wrapped up his playing days back in the Arena League playing for the Nashville Kats.

A 1993 University of Central Florida graduate, Hinshaw earned his master's in business administration from UCF in 1996.

Hinshaw and his wife, Pam, have four children: daughters Sydney, Hayley and Carley; and son Darin Jr.

Terry Joseph takes over as Tennessee's defensive backs coach and recruiting coordinator under head coach Derek Dooley.

Joseph, 36, held those same duties the last three seasons on Dooley's staff at Louisiana Tech. He helped turn around a Bulldogs secondary unit that ranked dead last in the country the year before his arrival in both total defense and scoring defense to one that sliced its scoring defense average nearly in half by 2008.

That's the year Louisiana Tech won its first bowl game in 30 years at the Independence Bowl. Tech finished second in the WAC that season and played in a bowl game for only the third time since joining the major college ranks in 1989.

Defense played its part, tossing the school's first shutout -- 21-0 at San Jose State -- since 1996 for a span of 148 games and its first road shutout since 1988 for a span of 225 games.

In addition to Joseph's success on the field, he also coordinated Dooley's recruiting efforts for the Western Athletic Conference program. Tech's 2009 recruiting class ranked second in the league and Rivals.com tabbed Joseph as the No. 4 recruiter from a non-BCS school in 2008.

Joseph came to Louisiana Tech after one season of graduate assistant work on the LSU staff of Les Miles. Joseph worked under defensive coordinator and current Nebraska head coach Bo Pelini as the Tigers ended the season third nationally in total defense and pass defense, and fourth nationally in scoring defense.

Before that, Joseph gathered a wealth of knowledge of the Louisiana high school football circuit -- especially south Louisiana -- thanks to his three seasons each as an assistant coach at both Archbishop Shaw and Destrehan high schools in the New Orleans area. Joseph was at Archbishop Shaw from 1999 through 2002, and then at Destrehan through 2005.

Joseph earned his bachelor's degree from Northwestern State in 1996. He was the 1995 Southland Conference Baseball Player of the Year and went on to four minor league playing seasons in the Chicago Cubs and San Diego Padres systems.

He is married to the former Amanda Gauthier of Destrehan, La., and they are the parents of daughters Taylor and Lynleigh.

Tennessee head coach Derek Dooley welcomed a familiar face when he named Eric Russell to his assistant coaching staff. Russell coached two seasons under Dooley at Louisiana Tech before moving to Texas Tech for the 2009 season.

The 42-year-old Russell has a reputation as one of the top special teams coaches in the country and was special teams coordinator at Texas Tech in 2009. For his efforts, Russell was a nominee for the 2009 Frank Broyles Awards honoring the nation's top assistant coaches.

Last season, the Red Raiders were third in the Big 12 and 15th nationally in kickoff returns and third among Big 12 kickoff coverage leaders. Freshman Eric Stephens finished second in the league with a 25.7-yard kickoff return average.

The Idaho native arrived in Lubbock after two highly successful seasons in the same position at Louisiana Tech under Dooley. In 2008, he helped make the Bulldogs the No. 1-ranked special teams unit in the entire nation in the accumulation of net punting, punt returns, kickoff return defense and kickoff returns. Tech scored five times on special teams in 2008, and during Russell's two seasons the Bulldogs scored via the punt return, kickoff return, blocked field goal return and blocked punt return.

Russell's work lifted punter Chris Keagle to a 41.3-yard average and first team All-WAC honors. Keagle and the punt coverage unit led the WAC in net punting and ranked 27th nationally.

The Bulldogs also developed quite a reputation for blocking kicks as freshman Dominique Faust blocked three field goals and one punt while as a team Tech blocked a total of 10 kicks over Russell's two seasons.

Before joining Dooley at Louisiana Tech, Russell spent 13 seasons at North Texas, including five as the special teams coordinator. During his tenure at North Texas, Russell helped lead the program to four-straight Sun Belt Conference titles and four-consecutive appearances in the New Orleans Bowl from 2001-04.

His Mean Green special teams units were annually ranked among the best in the Sun Belt Conference in punt returns, kickoff coverage and field goal percentage. North Texas led the Sun Belt in net punting in 2002 and 2003 and in kickoff returns in 2002. During his time as special teams coordinator, North Texas blocked 14 punts, including seven during the 2003 season.

Prior to joining the North Texas staff in 1994, Russell served as a graduate assistant at New Mexico in 1993 and at Idaho in 1991.

An all-state quarterback at St. Maries High School, Russell was named the Idaho Offensive Player of the Year as a senior before earning all-conference honors at Spokane (Wash.) Falls Community College in 1986-87. He earned his bachelor's degree in public relations from Idaho in 1991.

Russell is married to the former Shannon Cook of Tyler, Texas, and the couple has a 4-year-old son, Hayden, and a newborn daughter, Hadleigh.

Defensive End, Northeast Oklahoma A&M College, 1988-89; University of Tennessee, 1990-91

Coaching Career

Baltimore Ravens 2008, New York Jets 2009, Tennessee 2010-present.

Tennessee's Derek Dooley completed his staff this year by naming Chuck Smith to the ninth and final assistant coach's position.

Smith is a former UT and pro football defensive star originally from Athens, Ga., where he was a teammate of Dooley's at Clarke Central High School in the 1980s.

The 40-year-old spent this past season with the New York Jets' No. 1-ranked defense as pass rush specialist and assistant defensive line coach. Jets head coach Rex Ryan first discovered Smith in Baltimore in 2008 when Ryan was the Ravens' defensive coordinator and named Smith his pass rush coach.

Smith built his coaching reputation as a defensive line specialist throughout the previous decade. There are nearly 60 NFL players over the last five seasons who Smith has personally taught, trained and mentored the art of defensive line play.

Among his star pupils are three former Vols -- Albert Haynesworth, of the Washington Redskins; Robert Ayers, a 2009 NFL first-round pick of the Denver Broncos; and Shaun Ellis, a Pro-Bowler with the New York Jets. Others include Cincinnati's Michael Johnson, Oakland's Richard Seymour, the New York Giants' Osi Umenyiora, the New York Jets' Bart Scott and Kris Jenkins, San Diego's Larry English, the Titans' Derek Morgan, Cleveland's Shaun Rogers and Seattle's Patrick Kerney, just to name a few.

In the 2009 NFL Draft, seven linemen selected in the first five rounds trained under Smith.

Smith also taught and instructed coaches from the professional to high school levels as part of Defensive Line Inc., a firm he started in 2001. Since then, Smith has concentrated his efforts on teaching and coaching what it takes to be a successful defensive lineman.

"I'm just excited about this opportunity to be a part of a program that believes not only in winning championships but also having champions off the field," Smith said. "Integrity always will be one of our goals."

Smith compiled 58½ career sacks in nine NFL seasons and captained the Falcons' first and only Super Bowl appearance following the 1998 season. He later was voted "Best Defensive Lineman in Team History" by the Atlanta Falcons fans.

Smith began his collegiate career at Northeast Oklahoma A&M, where he played two seasons and is a member of the NJCAA Hall of Fame.

At Tennessee, Smith started at right defensive end in both of his UT playing campaigns. He helped the Vols to 1990 SEC and Sugar Bowl championships and earned All-SEC honors for the 1991 Vols that advanced to the Fiesta Bowl. During his senior year, Smith made 13 of his 64 tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Nine of those stops were quarterbacks sacks for a combined minus-74 yards. He then earned MVP honors at the Senior Bowl and was a second-round selection by Atlanta in the 1992 NFL Draft.

Smith also is a member of the Athens, Ga., Sports Hall of Fame and has been honored during Tennessee football pregame ceremonies as a UT Legend. The former UT Athletics Board member was considered by his head coach, Johnny Majors, the "best defensive end I ever coached."

Lance Thompson survived seemingly one 2009 injury after another to his linebacker corps and kept Tennessee's defense ranked in the top 25 nationally.

The Vols lost starting middle linebacker Nick Reveiz in the season's fourth game, then lost his replacement, Savion Frazier, just four games later. Freshman prospect Greg King was lost for the season in the Vanderbilt contest and junior stalwart LaMarcus Thompson battled a neck injury for most of the season.

Still, Thompson's charges proved difficult to stop. Senior Rico McCoy led the team with 119 tackles and topped the 300-tackle mark for his career. Freshman Herman Lathers picked up in the middle and earned Freshman All-SEC honors.

Thompson arrived in Knoxville one year ago the owner of a championship pedigree.

The Riverdale, Ga., native helped mold national title-winners at Georgia Tech and LSU, and spent his two seasons before UT rejuvenating Alabama's fortunes toward the SEC elite as outside linebackers coach and recruiting specialist. All told, Thompson has been a member of two national championship staffs, a pair of SEC titles, two ACC championships and one Conference USA divisional winner.

Thompson owns two separate coaching stints alongside Crimson Tide head coach Nick Saban, having originally worked for Saban at LSU for the 2002-03 seasons before rejoining him at Alabama in 2007. He served LSU as the assistant head coach in charge of recruiting and tight ends during their national championship season in 2003.

In addition to Saban, Thompson has worked for numerous national or conference head coaches of the year. Included on that list are Central Florida's George O'Leary, Georgia Tech's Bobby Ross and Ralph Friedgen and Alabama's Mike Dubose. Thompson also has fine-tuned his craft under such top-ranked defensive coordinators and Broyles Award candidates or recipients like Will Muschamp, Ellis Johnson, Kevin Steele, Randy Edsell, Jumbo Fisher, Kirby Smart and Monte Kiffin.

After his LSU tenure, Thompson spent three years as defensive coordinator at Central Florida.

Thompson developed one of the nation's youngest defenses in 2004, as the Golden Knights held their opposition to 21 points or less in three of the final four games of the season.

He previously served as Alabama's defensive line coach in 1999-2000.

Prior to his first two-year stint at Alabama, Thompson was a part of the Georgia Tech staff for 11 years. During his stay with the Yellow Jackets, Thompson was defensive line coach in 1998; defensive ends coach in 1996 and 1997 and tight ends coach in 1995. Thompson served as Georgia Tech's recruiting coordinator from 1995-98 and then again in 2001. Prior to serving as an on-field coach for the Yellow Jackets, Thompson held the position of Director of Football Operations at Georgia Tech from 1992-94.

Thompson got his start in coaching in 1988, serving as a graduate assistant for two years at Georgia Tech, followed by two more years as a volunteer assistant in 1990 and 1991.

Thompson was a four-year letterman at The Citadel, where he earned his bachelor's degree in education and mathematics in 1987. He is single and the father of three daughters: Allie, Christina and Lane.

Bennie Wylie, 33, takes over at UT as football head strength coach after seven seasons at Texas Tech, where for the last five years he was the athletics department's head strength and conditioning coach.

The Mexia, Texas, native established himself as one of the top strength coaches in the country during his Lubbock tenure. Wylie's last five seasons helped the Red Raiders produce a 46-18 overall record in football that was third-best in the Big 12 Conference. Included was perhaps the most memorable season in Tech history, the 11-2 campaign of 2008. His training methods and dedication to the student-athlete garnered national attention not only for the school and the program, but for himself.

Prior to his appointment at Texas Tech, Wylie was an assistant strength and conditioning coach with the Dallas Cowboys for four seasons, helping implement rehabilitation for injured players. In addition to working with the Cowboys, Wylie also spent the spring seasons heading the strength and conditioning program for the Dallas Desperados arena football team, a property of the Dallas Cowboys.

Wylie is a member of the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association and the Titleist Performance Institute.

He and his wife, the former Jennifer Small of Plano, Texas, are the proud parents of twin boys, 4-year-olds Braden and Caden.

Chino Fontenette

Graduate Assistant/Offense

Chino Fontenette joins the UT coaching staff as offensive graduate assistant after two seasons as running backs coach at Louisiana Tech.

Fontenette helped mold the 2008 Bulldogs ground game into the second-best unit in the WAC en route to the program's signature win at the Independence Bowl. And Tech tailback Daniel Porter finished his Bulldogs career with a school-record 3,352 yards.

Fontenette earned a double major from Tulane University in media arts and marketing in 2003 and was named to the Conference USA Commissioner's Honor Roll. As a player, from 1999-2003, Fontenette saw action at running back, wide receiver and quarterback for an 8-5 squad that won the Hawaii Bowl in 2002.

He also spent 2004-05 working as an ESPN production assistant, including assignments on the NFL Draft, Sunday Night Football, the Pro Bowl and the NBA Draft. He returned to coaching as a graduate assistant for Tulane under head coach Chris Scelfo in 2005.

Peter Sirmon

Graduate Assistant/Defense

In his first year at Tennessee, Peter Sirmon brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the Vols. The seven-year NFL veteran spent the last year as a graduate assistant at Oregon, his alma mater.

Prior to a stint with the Ducks, Sirmon served as the linebackers coach, as well as coaching kick-off coverage teams, at Central Washington, his first coaching position since retiring from the NFL.

He was selected by the Tennessee Titans in the fourth round of the 2000 NFL Draft and spent his entire career playing in Nashville. For five of his seven years in the NFL, Sirmon started at linebacker for the Titans.

An All-Pac 10 linebacker, Sirmon was a four-year starter and letter winner at Oregon from 1996-1999. During his time in Eugene, Sirmon was a part of 30 Ducks' wins.

Sirmon and his wife, Lindsay, have four children: Jackson, 9; Austyn, 8; Savanna, 6; and Sienna, 3.

- Born: Sept. 19, 1965 (Loudon)
- Wife: Andrea Blackburn
- Children: Emma and Charlee

- Education
Loudon High School
University of Tennessee, 1989

David Blackburn continues to display his value and versatility to the University of Tennessee, serving in his second year as Senior Associate Athletics Director for Administration-Football.

Blackburn is involved with the overall administrative duties of the football program, as assigned by athletics director Mike Hamilton. He played an important role in the recent hiring of Brad Pendergrass to manage football operations. Pendergrass worked under Blackburn during a previous tenure in Knoxville.

Blackburn's duties call for working closely with Pendergrass in the oversight of all football-related operations.

He has personnel oversight as well as responsibility for the coordination of preseason camp, in-season practice sessions, travel, bowl arrangements and the football budget.

"As we continue to look for ways to increase efficiencies within the athletics department, this is a great opportunity for us to expand David's role while eliminating a vacant position on our staff," said Mike Hamilton, men's athletics director. "David has served as football operations director in the past. He has been a tremendous asset for me on the administration side and continues to become an even greater asset to UT Athletics in this increased role."

A Loudon native, Blackburn graduated from UT in 1989 after serving two years as head football student manager under head coach Johnny Majors. He joined UT Athletics in a full-time capacity in 1991 and has served in a number of roles, including five years as assistant athletics director for football administration under head coach Phillip Fulmer.

His other positions include serving as assistant recruiting coordinator, administrative assistant for football, director of recruiting compliance for all men's teams, assistant athletics director for development, and associate athletics director for administration.

Blackburn lives in Maryville with his wife, the former Andrea Radel of Albion, Mich. They have two daughters: Emma and Charlee.

The Facts

- Born: June 25, 1976 (Oak Ridge)

- Education
Huntingdon High School
University of Tennessee, 1998
Master's, University of Tennessee, 2001

Brad Pendergrass was hired to return to Knoxville in April as the director of football operations on head coach Derek Dooley's staff.

Pendergrass' primary role at Tennessee is to oversee the day to day administrative operation of the football program in the areas of budgetary management, team travel, pre-season training camp and bowl planning, as well as serving as Dooley's liaison to all athletics department support units that assist the football team.

"I am extremely excited to begin working with Coach Dooley, our coaching staff, players, and administration," Pendergrass said. "The University of Tennessee is a leader in collegiate athletics in every area, and the opportunity to again be associated with this football program is something I couldn't pass up.

"It is very humbling to be able to come back and work with the great people in this building and on this campus. Coach Dooley has a comprehensive plan for our path to success and championships, and I look forward to assisting in any way possible."

Pendergrass, 33, is reuniting with David Blackburn, Tennessee's senior associate athletics director for administration. Pendergrass worked under Blackburn during his previous tenure in Knoxville, and Dooley says teaming those two up once again was an opportunity he couldn't pass up.

"We are thrilled to have Brad join our staff and glad he is coming back to UT," Dooley said. "Brad has shown the ability to handle all aspects of a major college football program. He learned well under David Blackburn here in the '90s and has paid his dues under a trio of excellent football coaches.

"And we're certainly excited to still have David on board as our senior administrator. Together, the two of them will make a great team."

Pendergrass held the director of football operations position in 2009 at Wisconsin under head coach Bret Bielema, handling the team's administrative operations, budget, team travel, and non-conference scheduling as well as other administrative duties. Wisconsin enjoyed a 10-3 record in 2009, capped by a victory over Miami in the Champs Sports Bowl in Orlando.

Prior to Wisconsin, Pendergrass spent five years at Mississippi State beginning in January 2004. He spent his first three years on Sylvester Croom's staff as assistant to the head coach, and then was promoted to coordinator of football operations in March 2007. After the 2007 season, in which Croom was named SEC Coach of the Year following MSU's

8-5 record and victory over Central Florida in the Liberty Bowl, Pendergrass was promoted to Assistant Athletic Director for Football Operations. In that role, Pendergrass was part of athletics director Greg Byrne's senior staff, while maintaining his responsibilities with the football program.

Pendergrass' first full-time position was at Tennessee in 2002 with his alma mater. Pendergrass spent a total 10 seasons with the Vols under former head coach Phillip Fulmer -- rising from student manager, to graduate assistant for the coaching staff, graduate assistant in football operations and later full-time recruiting assistant. During that 10-year period, the Vols enjoyed 10 consecutive bowl game appearances, highlighted by winning the 1998 national championship and back to back SEC championships in 1997 and 1998.

A native of Huntingdon, Pendergrass received his bachelor's degree in business/marketing from UT in 1998. He earned a master's degree from UT in 2001 in human performance and sports studies, with a concentration in sport administration. Pendergrass' father, Malcolm, enjoyed a 23-year football coaching career at three different high schools in the state of Tennessee.

The Facts

- Husband: Harry Ervin
- Children: Jasmine and Jada

Education

Sweetwater High School
Troy University, 1999
Master's, Troy University, 2001

Heather Ervin is in her second year as assistant director for football operations.

Ervin's duties include assisting with all non-coaching aspects associated with football operations. This includes working with game management, coordinating player campus and off-campus housing needs and their summer employment, and working closely with the Thornton Center in managing academic demands.

In addition, Ervin serves as chief liaison to all of parent event functions as well as being routinely involved with official and unofficial recruiting visits. She also manages the Wolf-Kaplan Room pre-game and the Lauricella Center Lettermen's Room for post game functions.

The Sweetwater native joined UT Athletics in September 2001 in an administrative support role with the football office.

Ervin holds both a bachelor's and master's degree in sports management from Troy University, where she played basketball and later served as a graduate assistant coach for two years. She earlier played two seasons at Hiwassee College in nearby Madisonville. While at Hiwassee, Ervin helped the Tigers to a combined 57-10 record and two trips to the NJCAA national tournament.

During her days at Sweetwater High School, Ervin set 12 track and field school records and still owns nine of those.

Ervin and her husband, Harry, who also hails from Sweetwater, reside in Maryville with their daughters Jasmine and Jada.

College Football

Quarterback, Tennessee, 1971-74

Condredge Holloway begins his 13th year on the Tennessee staff and continues to serve as a vital link between the current Vols football staff and its storied history.

UT's Assistant Athletics Director for Student-Athlete Relations and Letterman also is one of the most celebrated players in school history. Holloway's most recent honor was induction to the Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, the eighth hall of fame to include the former Big Orange quarterback and All-America shortstop.

Holloway, 56, is maintaining a number of his football staff duties but primarily now serves as the department's liaison with the Lettermen's Club, assisting with reunions and other projects. Public appearances on behalf of the department, always a strong suit for the popular Holloway, continue to be a major part of his job description.

Holloway also is the point person for numerous issues surrounding the conduct of a major college football program. He oversees disability insurance for the student-athletes and assists with the annual Pro Day inside the Neyland-Thompson Sports Center. And Holloway has taken great pride in helping former Vols find their niche in the business world by assisting them with contacts and employment opportunities following graduation.

Holloway remains associated in the minds of Tennessee fans with the razzle-dazzle offense he quarterbacked during his undergraduate days of the 1970s. Nicknamed "The Artful Dodger," Holloway packed excitement into every play, whether it developed into a pass or a scramble.

In his three seasons (1972-74) as a starter, Holloway directed the Vols to the 1972 Astro-Bluebonnet, 1973 Gator and 1974 Liberty bowls and an overall record of 25-9-2. He ended his career with the best interception-to-attempt ratio in Tennessee history, throwing just 12 interceptions in 407 collegiate attempts.

In addition to being the first black quarterback at Tennessee and in the Southeastern Conference, Holloway also was the first black baseball player in UT history.

The outstanding prospect had been selected out of high school by the Montreal Expos with their first overall pick. Holloway opted instead for a two-sport collegiate career and went on to excel on the diamond. He garnered All-SEC and All-America honors as a shortstop in 1975 and finished with a .353 career average.

Two years ago, Holloway -- still the owner of UT's longest hitting streak at 27 games -- was selected to Tennessee's All-Century Baseball Team, making him the only UT student-athlete named to all-century squads in both baseball and football.

Holloway left Knoxville and played 13 seasons in the Canadian Football League, compiling impressive numbers for the Ottawa Rough Riders (1975-80), Toronto Argonauts (1981-86) and British Columbia Lions (1987). He threw for more than 25,000 yards and rushed for another 3,167 while scoring 155 touchdowns. He was league MVP in 1982.

After his professional playing days ended, Holloway returned to UT and earned his degree.

In addition to his recent induction in Alabama, Holloway is a member of the Canadian Football Hall of Fame, Tennessee Sports Hall of Fame and the UT Baseball Hall of Fame, among others.

Kris Ann Hawkins

Director of On Campus Recruiting

The Facts

- Husband: John Hawkins
- Children: Reagan and Haynes

■ Education

Morristown West High School
University of Tennessee, 2001

Kris Ann Hawkins signed on to head coach Derek Dooley's football reorganization when she was named Director of On Campus Recruiting in April.

The Morristown native initiates the plans for all on-campus activities for both official and unofficial visits and helps with mailing campaigns and general recruiting office activities.

After graduating with an English degree from UT in 2001, Hawkins began her career working for her alma mater in the university's Upward Bound programs. In 2003, she moved to the admissions office at Middle Tennessee State, assisting with student tours on the Murfreesboro campus, before returning to UT's admission's office two years later.

That's when Hawkins, as Assistant Director of Admissions, began the Orange Pride program and maintained oversight as part of her campus recruitment activities. She also helped with general student recruiting at local high schools and assisted with event planning.

Hawkins and her husband, John, who is from Knoxville, are the parents of a daughter, Reagan, and a son, Haynes.

Defensive Back, Tennessee, 1998-2001

Head coach Derek Dooley took a giant step toward his reorganization of the Tennessee brand when he named former Vols defensive back Andre Lott to the position of Vol for Life (VFL)/Character Education Coordinator.

The newly-created VFL is a comprehensive program for UT's football student-athletes that centers on four areas of personal growth: character education, life skills, career development and spiritual growth.

A former captain and four-year letterman from 1997-2001, Lott returns to Knoxville from West Tennessee where he was an assistant football coach, head track and field coach and Success Coordinator in the Hardin County school system. As Success Coordinator, Lott taught kids of all age groups real life skills, dealing in the Savannah community with such issues as broken families, drug use, bullying and teen pregnancy.

Lott's playing days in Knoxville were an exciting time for the Vols, who won 53 games in those five years, played in three BCS bowl games, captured two SEC championships and won the 1998 BCS national championship in Lott's redshirt freshman campaign.

Lott was team captain in 2001 and served as a two-year member of the squad's Unity Council -- a liaison group between the football team and coaching staff under Lott's head coach, Phillip Fulmer. The All-SEC defensive back was drafted in the fifth round by the Washington Redskins and played five seasons in the NFL.

Lott, 31, hails from Memphis and is married to a Savannah native, the former Jackie Givens, who will be working in Knoxville as a nurse practitioner at East Tennessee Children's Hospital. The couple has two daughters, Ella Grace and Ana Lou.

Adam Dicus

Assistant to the Head Coach

Adam Dicus arrived in Knoxville from Louisiana Tech having served as the assistant to head coach Derek Dooley.

His day-to-day duties at UT include research and special projects for the head coach and works with NFL scouts during their visits to Knoxville. Dicus got his start as an assistant to the director of football operations at SMU under head coach Phil Bennett. After majoring in economics at SMU, Dicus spent four years working in Dallas for a hedge fund before returning to football operations at Louisiana Tech.

Steve Gortmaker

Associate Strength and Conditioning Coach

Steve Gortmaker joined UT Athletics in 2009. Gortmaker came to the Vols after four seasons at South Carolina, where he was associate director of football strength and conditioning.

Gortmaker held the same position at Kansas and was head football strength and conditioning coach at Western Kentucky. He started his 12-year career at his alma mater, the University of Oklahoma, where he was a part of the BCS national championship team in 2000.

Gortmaker, 33, is a 1998 health and sports science graduate of Oklahoma. He is married to the former Brooke Martin of Irmo, S.C.

Steven Rubio

Director of Player Personnel

Steven Rubio was named in February to the position of Director of Player Personnel. He works in close coordination with head coach Derek Dooley and recruiting coordinator Terry Joseph on the vital task of identifying prospective football student-athletes for the Tennessee program.

Rubio, 24, came to the Vols just before the 2009 season as a recruiting intern. Since his promotion, he now oversees all recruiting board material. Rubio handles the initial evaluation of high school and junior college prospects and serves to keep the UT coaching staff abreast of the latest trends in recruiting – whether by player position or area of the country.

The Fort Lauderdale, Fla., native came to UT from his alma mater, the University of Central Florida. Rubio worked in various roles on the Knights football staff for six years, spending the last 12 months as UCF's director of player personnel. Before that, he spent five months as the team's defensive graduate assistant.

After graduating with a sports administration degree in 2007, Rubio was named the recruiting and operations graduate assistant. Other assignments during his undergraduate days included three years as student manager and one as student intern under the offensive coordinator. Rubio's initial taste of the coaching world came as a volunteer assistant at his high school, St. Thomas Aquinas, from the summer of 2002 to the summer of 2003.

Kyle Strongin

Coordinator of Football Operations

Kyle Strongin is in his second season as Coordinator of Football Operations with the Tennessee football program.

Strongin's duties include management the recruiting office and staff, oversight of initial eligibility for the football program, coordination of the walk-on program, works with the director of on-campus recruiting on official and unofficial visits, and organization of summer camps and coaching clinics. In addition, he also maintains internal and external relations with the compliance of NCAA, SEC and UT rules and regulations.

The Northern California native came to Knoxville after serving as scouting and player personnel assistant for the San Francisco 49ers in 2008. Before that, Strongin served at Mississippi, first in 2006 as a volunteer assistant on offense, and then in 2007 as director of football operations. Preceding his Ole Miss tour, Strongin worked one off-season as a special teams assistant for the Jacksonville Jaguars. He spent the 2005 football campaign as quarterbacks coach and passing game coordinator for Palm Beach (Fla.) Central High School.

Strongin, 28, earned his bachelor's degree in marketing in 2005 from the University of Oklahoma, where he was a member of the Sooners' 2002 Big 12 and Rose Bowl championship football team. A graduate of Wellington (Fla.) High School, Strongin competed in basketball, track and field, and tennis in addition to football.

Roger Woods

Team Chaplain

Chaplain Roger C. Woods III uses his visionary leadership and administrative ability to encourage, enrich and empower UT coaches and student-athletes.

Woods brings with him more than 20 years of experience working with youth ministries and programs. He is in his second year as team chaplain at Tennessee with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes (FCA), where he serves the entire UT Athletics Department.

In addition, Woods also has participated in several community initiatives: Co-Chair of the Pillar of the Community Awards Committee; Big Brothers and Big Sisters; Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity Inc.; Board of Directors for the Intercollegiate Fine Arts Society Inc.; and Juvenile Advocate for Dekalb County for the Winning Circle Inc., just to name a few. Not only does Woods have an ability to reach and mentor people, but he also is an extraordinary role model. His leadership brings to the campus a wealth of competence and exemplary service.

The Lithonia, Ga., native also has served and ministered with the following ministers and/or artists: B.B. and C.C. Winans, Tyler Pery in his first stage play; "I Know I've Been Changed," Shun Pace Rhodes, Ann Nesby, Byron Cage, Donnie McClurkin and Danny Buggs, a former All-Pro NFL receiver.

Woods and his wife, Tia, have three children: Derrick Ezekiel, Faith Alexandria and Christian Alexander.

Roger Frazier

Equipment Manager

Equipment Manager Roger Frazier is responsible for all football equipment issue and maintenance, in addition to handling the purchasing and inventory control of all football game and practice gear.

He also serves as president of the SEC Equipment Managers Association and assists in new product development with Adidas.

Currently in his 28th year as a full-time staffer with the Volunteers football program, the UT graduate began his career in 1978 as student manager before being named equipment manager in spring 1983.

The equipment room was renamed the Roger Frazier and Max Parrott Football Equipment Room, given in their honor by Gordon, Melissa and Hannah Summerfield, in January 2003.

Frazier graduated from Bradley Central High School in Cleveland and played football. He and his wife, Donna, have two children, Brandon and Barrett.

Max Parrott

Assistant Equipment Manager

Max Parrott marks his Silver Anniversary season this year as assistant equipment manager under the direction of Roger Frazier.

Parrott began his association with the Volunteers football program as a student assistant in 1980 before coming back in 1985 to take on the equipment room duty on a full-time basis. He was promoted to his current position in 1987.

The equipment room was renamed the Roger Frazier and Max Parrott Football Equipment Room, given in their honor by Gordon, Melissa and Hannah Summerfield, in January 2003.

Parrott graduated from Soddy-Daisy High School and received his UT bachelor's degree in Arts and Sciences in 1984. He is married to the former Paige Davis of Lenoir City, and they enjoy boating on Norris Lake along with camping and snow skiing.

Allen Sitzler

Assistant Equipment Manager

Allen Sitzler joined Roger Frazier's staff as full-time assistant equipment manager in September 2007.

The Cleveland native's responsibility includes managing the daily operation of the equipment room, from practice to scheduling, supervision of the student managers as well as ordering and maintaining the team's Adidas gear and football equipment.

Sitzler, 34, graduated from Cleveland High School and then Cleveland State Community College, playing baseball and basketball at both stops, before arriving at UT. He earned his undergraduate degree in communications, with a minor in sport management, and then completed his master's in sport administration.

During those years, Sitzler served as a student manager from 1996-2000, including the last two years as head student manager, before climbing aboard Frazier's staff in a part-time role.

Joe Harrington

Sports Technology Coordinator

Joe Harrington enters his 20th season at Tennessee as the Vols' sports technology coordinator. Although his emphasis is on football, Harrington trains the staff working with all UT men's and women's sports teams.

His primary responsibilities include compiling and editing game and practice tapes for coaching analysis, cataloging game tapes and producing "cut-ups." He also manages all equipment and design of the Vols' video department, including the team's state-of-the-art XOS Technologies editing system.

A Camillus, N.Y., native, Harrington graduated from UT in 1990 with a communications degree. The College Sports Video Association has named him SEC Video Coordinator of the Year three times (1997, 1998 and 2003).

Harrington and his wife, the former Tammy Mulling of Alva, Fla., have three children, Connor, Abigail and Hayden Jane.

Allison Maurer

Sports Nutritionist

Allison Maurer's commitment to sports nutrition is a big part of the Tennessee winning edge.

Maurer is one of only 17 full-time sports nutritionists at the NCAA Division I level and is responsible for all nutrition education with UT athletics. She conducts grocery-shopping tours for student-athletes, weight-gain and weight-loss programs and performance nutrition. She handles meal planning for football and assists with meal planning for other sports, works closely with Team ENHANCE and Team EXCEL and conducts body composition testing for men's athletics.

Maurer also teaches an undergraduate nutrition class, "Sports Nutrition for Athletes," while handling the orders and distribution of NCAA-compliant nutritional supplements for all UT sports.

The Holland, Mich., native began work at UT in October 2007 after three years at Colorado. Maurer earned her undergraduate degree in nutrition and dietetics from Olivet Nazarene University in 2002, and completed her master's from Georgia State University in 2003.

She and her husband, Dan, of Addison, Ill., are the parents of Manny and Emilio.

Director of Sports Medicine

Jason McVeigh enters his fifth season as Director of Sports Medicine at Tennessee, and his 12th overall with the UT athletics department.

McVeigh has been a member of the UT Sports Medicine staff since 1999, when he joined the Vols as the Director of Rehabilitation under former Head Athletic Trainer Mike Rollo. He gained his Athletic Trainer Certification in 2000, and was named after Keith Clements' departure in 2006.

Under McVeigh's supervision, the UT Sports Medicine department has added several key features to assist in the mission of providing world-class health care to all UT student-athletes.

letes.

This includes addition of a Team Physician's Clinic, on-site X-ray, baseline echocardiograms and concussion testing for all student-athletes, a revised substance abuse testing policy and procedure, and an expanded state-of-the-art physical therapy clinic, as well as development of Team EXCEL, a multi-disciplined program aimed at addressing the complex behavioral health needs of the UT student-athlete.

McVeigh graduated Summa Cum Laude from UT in 1996 with a B.S. degree in Biology. He then went on to receive his master's degree in Physical Therapy from Duke University in 1999.

He is a member of both the American Physical Therapy Association and the National Athletic Trainers Association. He currently serves as the chair of the Editorial Review Group in Athletic Training for Doody Enterprises Inc., as well as being a member of the Client Advisory Board for Aegis Sciences Corp. McVeigh has spoken at several local and national sports medicine conferences on topics related to both physical therapy and athletic training.

A native of Buffalo, N.Y., McVeigh graduated from Jonesborough's David Crockett High in 1992. He is married to the former Jennifer Bruorton of Marietta, Ga., and they are the parents of twins, Caitlin and Carson, and newborn daughter, Kennedy.

John Dean

Director of Rehabilitation

John Dean, MPT, ATC, is beginning his fifth year as the Director of Rehabilitation for the UT Sports Medicine Staff.

Prior to coming to Tennessee, John worked for the Athletic Association at Florida. At UF, he was responsible for treating all injuries to the football team and was an instructor in the Applied Physiology and Kinesiology Department teaching a course in Rehabilitation. He previously was an athletic trainer at Southern California, working with the football and baseball programs, including the Trojans' 2003 national champion football team.

A native of American Fork, Utah, Dean graduated Magna Cum Laude from San Diego State University in 2000 with a degree in kinesiology. He completed his Master's degree in physical therapy at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. John is an experienced clinician and educator who is active in the National Athletic Trainers' Association and the American Physical Therapy Association. He has presented at several regional and national conferences.

He and his wife, Kris, live in Knoxville with their daughter Addison.

Robb Duncanson

Associate Athletic Trainer, Football

Robb Duncanson has entered his fifth season as UT's Associate Athletic Trainer for football. Duncanson works closely with Jason McVeigh to coordinate day-to-day medical care and medical operations. Duncanson also oversees the graduate assistant athletic trainers for football and tennis. In addition to being a Certified Athletic Trainer, he is also a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist and is a member of The National Athletics Trainers Association/ University Athletic Trainers Committee.

The 33-year-old came to the Vols in 2006 after four years in the same position at the University of South Florida. Prior to his tenure at USF, Duncanson served as co-head athletic trainer with the Louisville Fire of the Arena2 Football League, was a seasonal assistant athletic trainer for the New York Jets in 2001, and a summer intern for the New York Giants in 1997.

A 1999 Sports Science graduate of Elmira College, Duncanson earned his master's in Sports Administration at the University of Louisville in 2001. He was named "2005 Athletic Trainer of the Year" and received the "2004 President's Backbone Award" by the Athletic Trainers' Association of Florida.

A Middletown, N.Y., native, Duncanson is married to the former Carrie Clark, an Athletic Trainer with the Lady Vols and UT letterwinner. The Duncansons have a daughter, Avery, and a son, Cade.

Tennessee Physicians and Additional UT Staff

Dr. Chris Klenck

Team Physician

Dr. Chris Klenck is a rising star in the medical profession as team physician on the UT Sports Medicine staff.

Klenck, 39, came to Knoxville in November 2006 following a primary care sports medicine fellowship at Indiana University Medical Center. He had served the Indianapolis hospital since June 2001 in the positions of Internal Medicine/Pediatrics intern, resident and chief resident.

During fellowship training, Klenck was an assistant team physician for the Indianapolis Colts preseason training camps and assisted at Purdue University, his alma mater. He worked the NFL Scouting Combines in Indianapolis, has NCAA championships experience and served as a team physician in the Indiana high school ranks.

An Evansville, Ind., native, Klenck earned his doctor of pharmacy degree from Purdue before completing his doctor of medicine degree at Indiana University School of Medicine. He is a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics, American College of Physicians, American Medical Society for Sports Medicine and American College of Sports Medicine.

Vols Play by the Rules

Compliance with NCAA rules is one of the highest priorities for the University of Tennessee and our athletics department. As a member of the NCAA, the University of Tennessee is responsible for the actions of its boosters and fans. Even the best intentions may violate NCAA rules. We need your help in observing all SEC and NCAA regulations. Boosters and fans must be careful of their interaction with prospective and current student-athletes. Therefore, we encourage our boosters and fans to "Ask Before You Act" by contacting the Compliance Office staff: Associate Athletics Director for Compliance Brad Bertani (865-974-3871), Assistant Athletics Director for Compliance Todd Dooley (865-974-9696), or Director of Compliance Kevin Avery (865-974-3308).

Representatives of Athletics Interest, "Boosters"
There are many ways an individual can be classified as a Representative of Tennessee's Athletics Interests. You are a "representative of The University of Tennessee's athletics interests," if you have: been involved in a booster club; made financial contributions to the athletics program or booster organizations; provided benefits to an enrolled student-athlete; assisted in the recruitment of prospective student-athletes; or been involved in the promotion of UT athletics. Please note that once you have been identified as a representative of UT athletics interests, you retain that identity indefinitely.

Recruiting, Extra Benefits and Inducements
Only coaches and athletics department staff members can be involved in the recruiting process. All "athletics representatives" who are not employees of UT are prohibited from contacting a prospect by telephone, letter or in-person, on- or off-campus, for the purpose of encouraging participation in athletics at UT. It is not permissible for prospects, student-athletes or their relatives and friends to receive any extra benefits or special arrangements from a booster. Extra benefits include, but are not limited to: cash or loans in any amount; co-signing or arranging a loan; providing gifts of any kind (e.g., clothing, airline tickets or holiday cards); providing special discounts for goods and services; use of an automobile.

2009 Season Review

When Adversity Called, the Vols Answered

A season isn't made in one game, but one game can reflect a body of work over the course of a season. For Tennessee, that game was the regular season finale at Kentucky.

By then, the Vols were bowl eligible and facing the potential to guarantee a winning season. That's when Tennessee's stars shined their brightest in the cool Lexington air.

Tailback Montario Hardesty's 20-yard scamper for the game-winning touchdown in overtime capped a career-high night with 179 yards on 39 carries. It followed the previous week's game against Vanderbilt when the senior had 171 yards. He had five 100-yard games and finished the regular season with 1,306 yards, only the school's fifth tailback to break 1,300 yards in a season.

Senior quarterback Jonathan Crompton was another example. By the time the whistle blew to cap off Tennessee's season, Crompton was second in the Southeastern Conference in touchdowns (26) on the year and third in the league in passing yards (2,565). His touchdown passes ranked fourth on UT's all-time list of quarterbacks for a single season behind familiar names like Manning, Ainge and Clausen, and ahead of Shuler.

Defensively, that one game told the same story. The Vols shut down the Wildcats late in regulation and held them to the game-tying field goal, a textbook bend-but-don't-break stand by Tennessee that had been seen time and time again in 2009 when the stakes were high.

Tennessee finished the season 7-6, an improvement from the previous campaign thanks to the dedication of senior leadership.

◀ Marsalis Teague was one of three true freshmen to score a touchdown in the Vols' 63-7 season-opening romp over Western Kentucky.

Game 1 | Sept. 5, 2009

Tennessee	0	28	7	28	-	63
WKU	0	0	7	0	-	7

KNOXVILLE - A slow start to Lane Kiffin's first game as head coach exploded in the final three quarters of a 63-7 win against Western Kentucky in Neyland Stadium.

After two early turnovers, UT's offense got going in the second quarter, and quarterback Jonathan Crompton finished with 21-of-28 passing for 233 yards and a career-best five touchdowns.

Tailback Bryce Brown capped a 10-play drive early in the second quarter with a 2-yard touchdown run to make the score 7-0.

After LaMarcus Thompson recovered a fumble on Western Kentucky's next play from scrimmage, Crompton hit senior tight end Luke Stocker for a 17-yard catch-and-run touchdown to go up 14-0.

Quintin Hancock caught the next one on 9 yards, and Brandon Warren hauled in a 4-yard touchdown, giving the Vols a 28-0 halftime lead.

The Vols racked up 380 rushing yards with Montario Hardesty and Brown each surpassing the 100-yard mark. And UT's 63 points dwarfed its biggest output of 35 points against UAB last season. Ditto for its 657 yards of total offense.

UT's defense had a stellar day of its own. Western Kentucky finished with 83 yards of total offense and committed three turnovers.

Game 2 | Sept. 12, 2009

Tennessee	10	0	0	5	-	15
UCLA	3	7	9	0	-	19

KNOXVILLE - The Volunteers committed four turnovers but still came within three yards of taking a last-minute lead in a 19-15 loss to UCLA at Neyland Stadium.

Tennessee's defense held UCLA to just 186 yards of total offense. The defense was also responsible for a short field that led to the Vols' only touchdown of the game, an 11-yard run by Montario Hardesty in the first quarter.

The offense was out of sync most of the day, although the running game picked up steam during a 17-play, 69-yard field goal drive midway through the fourth quarter.

A week after tossing five touchdowns against Western Kentucky, quarterback Jonathan Crompton completed 13 of his 26 passes for 93 yards with three interceptions. And a fumbled exchange between center Cody Sullins and Crompton led to UCLA's only touchdown of the day--and started a string of four straight UT possessions that ended in turnovers.

But despite the turnovers and troubles moving the ball, Tennessee still had two plays from the UCLA 3-yard line to take the lead in the final minutes but was halted just short of the goal line. The Vols had one more offensive opportunity after Dennis Rogan tackled UCLA quarterback Kevin Prince for a safety with 1:41 remaining.

Game 3 | Sept. 19, 2009

Tennessee	3	3	0	7	-	13
Florida	3	10	10	0	-	23

GAINESVILLE, Fla. - The Tennessee Volunteers--who lost their previous two games against Florida by a combined margin of 63 points and entered the 2009 game as 30-point underdogs--gave themselves something to build on despite a 23-13 loss at Ben Hill Griffin Stadium.

In the first half, Tennessee kept pace with the Gators' offense. The Vols had 126 yards in the first 30 minutes to Florida's 133. And Tennessee had control of the ball longer than the Gators by a full minute.

The Vols ran the ball 32 times, compared to just 19 passes. After the Vols began the second half with an interception, the defense gave up a 47-yard field goal drive and a 13-play, 69-yard touchdown drive that put the Gators up 23-6. However, one thing the Vols didn't do was quit.

On Florida's next possession, defensive tackle Montori Hughes forced a fumble that Dennis Rogan recovered. And the Vols offense--which failed to produce a first down in the third quarter--came to life on a drive that ended with an 18-yard touchdown run by Montario Hardesty with 8:11 remaining.

Hardesty once again led the rushing game with 96 yards. Quarterback Jonathan Crompton completed 11-of-19 passes for 93 yards and a pair of interceptions.

Eric Berry led the Vols for the second time in 2009 with 11 tackles. He also snagged his first interception of 2009 on a diving grab.

Game 4 | Sept. 26, 2009

Tennessee	14	10	7	3	-	34
Ohio	14	3	3	3	-	23

KNOXVILLE - Jonathan Crompton threw for two touchdowns and Tennessee beat Ohio 34-23 on a wet Saturday night at Neyland Stadium.

Crompton threw a 26-yard screen pass to Bryce Brown to give the Vols a 31-20 lead with 2:38 in the third quarter and lobbed a 3-yard scoring strike to Brandon Warren in the first.

The Vols relied on their stable of tough tailbacks in their first three games to protect the unsteady passing game with mixed results. Against the Bobcats, Tennessee rushed for 177 yards while Crompton completed 17 of 34 passes for 222 yards.

By the end of the game, Montario Hardesty had run 20 times for 140 yards and an 11-yard touchdown and had increased his career total to 1,531 yards rushing. Brown added 56 yards rushing and caught two passes for 60 yards, including a 34-yard catch on the second play of the game.

Tennessee, which entered the game ranked fifth in total defense in the FBS, held the Bobcats to only 21 yards rushing on 17 carries. Chris Walker picked off Scott's pass at the Ohio 7 and returned it for a touchdown to give the Vols the lead for good.

Game 5 | Oct. 3, 2009

Tennessee	0	6	0	16	- 22
Auburn	6	7	3	10	- 26

KNOXVILLE - Chris Todd threw for 218 yards and a touchdown, and Ben Tate ran for 128 yards and a score to help the Tigers beat Tennessee 26-22 at Neyland Stadium.

Auburn met some resistance early from Tennessee's defense. However, the Tigers slowly wore it down as they held the ball nearly 10 minutes longer than the Vols.

Tennessee made the score look closer when Jonathan Crompton threw a 32-yard touchdown pass to Denarius Moore as the clock expired to cut the final margin to 26-22.

The Vols defense forced the Tigers to punt six times and limited them to field goals by Wes Byrum on four drives. The Auburn offense entered the game averaging 45.3 points and 526.3 yards.

Tennessee's offense couldn't stay on the field. The Vols went three-and-out three times in the first half. The Vols converted only four of 17 third downs.

By the middle of the second quarter, Auburn managed to take advantage of the weary Vols defense and drove 87 yards in 2:32. Tate scored on an 11-yard run to put the Tigers up 13-0. Todd connected with Terrell Zachery on an 11-yard touchdown pass to give them a 23-6 lead.

Game 6 | Oct. 10, 2009

Tennessee	0	21	17	7	- 45
Georgia	0	12	7	0	- 19

KNOXVILLE - Tennessee coach Lane Kiffin didn't defeat Florida as promised. He did deliver on another guarantee with a 45-19 win over the Georgia Bulldogs.

The first-year coach got help from Jonathan Crompton, who passed for a career-high 310 yards and threw four touchdowns.

It was Kiffin's first Southeastern Conference victory and kept the Volunteers from going 0-3 in the league for a second season in a row. Georgia dropped to 3-3 for the first time under coach Mark Richt.

The Vols' passing game had faltered at times this season, with Crompton struggling with his accuracy and his receivers often dropping passes when he was on target. But by halftime, Crompton had already thrown for 205 yards and three touchdowns. He finished 20-for-27.

Georgia's offense never reached the red zone, and the Tennessee defense held it to 241 yards compared with the Vols' 472.

Crompton was 4-for-4 for 67 yards on a drive late in the first half, finding Marsalis Teague on a 5-yard touchdown pass for a 21-10 lead with 2:40 left. He also connected with Gerald Jones on a 51-yard score. He had a season-best 105 yards receiving and two touchdowns.

Game 7 | Oct. 24, 2009

Tennessee	0	3	0	7	- 10
Alabama	3	6	0	3	- 12

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. - Terrence Cody blocked a 44-yard field-goal attempt on the final play--his second block of the fourth quarter--and Alabama escaped with a 12-10 victory over rival Tennessee.

Leigh Tiffin had four field goals--including a 50-yarder and a 49-yarder--to provide all Alabama's points.

Tennessee kept alive its hopes for coach Lane Kiffin's first huge victory with Eric Berry's fumble recovery and Jonathan Crompton's 11-yard touchdown pass to Gerald Jones with 1:19 left. Then Tennessee's Denarius Moore recovered the onside kick at the Vols' 41 with no time outs remaining.

Crompton hit Jones on a 14-yarder before UT was pushed back by a false start. On second down, Crompton hit Luke Stecker for a 23-yard gain to get the Vols into position for the potential game-winning kick.

Tiffin's 49-yarder with 6:31 left had barely cleared the uprights for the 12-3 lead and, it turns out, the decisive points. That came after Cody batted Lincoln's 43-yard field goal attempt.

Tennessee would get new life when Tide running back Mark Ingram lost the first fumble of his career in 322 touches, giving the Vols the ball back at the Bama 43. All-America safety Eric Berry jarred the ball loose as Ingram was going down, and then recovered it.

Alabama was held without an offensive touchdown for the first time since 2007.

Tennessee	14	7	7	3	- 31
S. Carolina	0	3	10	0	- 13

KNOXVILLE - Decker out in black jerseys for the first time since adopting orange tops in 1922, Tennessee turned three South Carolina fumbles into touchdowns and beat the No. 21 Gamecocks 31-13.

Jonathan Crompton threw two touchdowns, Monatrio Hardesty ran for two more and Rico McCoy forced a pair of fumbles.

South Carolina fumbled on its first two drives. Tennessee finished the game with no turnovers.

For the Gamecocks, Justice Cunningham coughed up the first fumble on the third play of the game, and 42 seconds later, Crompton hit Austin Johnson on a 38-yard touchdown toss. Crompton completed 12 of 24 passes for 142 yards.

On the second play of the following drive, Kenny Miles lost the first fumble of his career, and Tennessee answered with a 14-yard run by Hardesty, who finished with 121 yards rushing.

With Daniel Lincoln sidelined by a quadriceps injury, Chad Cunningham took over field goal duties. Devin Taylor blocked Cunningham's first attempt, a 40-yarder in the first quarter. His second attempt, a 39-yarder with 4:23 left in the game, was good.

Up 14-0 early in the second quarter, Vols head coach Lane Kiffin opted to go for it on fourth-and-goal at the 2-yard line. Crompton found Kevin Cooper, who stumbled into the end zone.

Game 9 | Nov. 7, 2009 | Homecoming

Tennessee	14	28	14	0	- 56
Memphis	0	7	14	7	- 28

KNOXVILLE - Jonathan Crompton surpassed his career high with 331 yards in Tennessee's 56-28 homecoming victory over Memphis at Neyland Stadium.

He tied his career high of five touchdown passes with a 16-yard connection to Denarius Moore to make it 49-7. The senior signalcaller finished 21-for-27 and with no interceptions.

David Oku took the opening kickoff 69 yards, and Bryce Brown scored on a 1-yard run 2 minutes later.

Memphis drove 93 yards in its 2-minute offense and scored on a 36-yard run by Marcus Hightower to cut UT's lead to 35-7 with 58 seconds left in the half. The Vols responded with a 55-yard touchdown drive.

Crompton had his selection of scoring targets in Moore, Gerald Jones, Luke Stocker, Quintin Hancock and Nu'Keese Richardson. Jones finished with 97 yards on four catches.

Tennessee's Eric Berry, the SEC's career interception return leader, inched closer to the NCAA career record when he picked off Hudgens and returned the ball 7 yards. At game's end, Berry had 494 career return yards, 5 yards shy of Florida State's Terrell Buckley.

Game 10 | Nov. 14, 2009

Tennessee	7	7	3	0	- 17
Mississippi	14	7	7	14	- 42

OXFORD, Miss. - Ole Miss running back Dexter McCluster rushed for 282 yards and finished with 324 all-purpose yards, setting two Mississippi records, and the Rebels ran over Tennessee 42-17.

McCluster broke the Rebels' single-game rushing record of 242 and the all-purpose mark of 317 yards. Ole Miss--off to its best start since 2003--clinched bowl eligibility for the second straight year.

McCluster scored his first touchdown just 1:31 into the game and added another with 1:20 left in the opening quarter. His 32-yard scamper came in the third quarter and Ole Miss opened the fourth quarter with McCluster's 71-yarder.

Brandon Bolden added 46 rushing yards and two touchdowns for the Rebels, who finished with 492 yards of total offense, including 359 on the ground.

Jonathan Crompton finished 20 of 37 for 176 yards and two Tennessee touchdowns. He hit Jeff Cottam with a 16-yard TD in the first quarter and Denarius Moore with a 25-yarder in the second quarter.

But the Vols' offense never got on track, gaining just 275 yards overall, 99 on the ground. Their only other score was a 27-yard field goal by Daniel Lincoln in the third quarter. Running back Montario Hardesty was limited to 55 yards but passed 2,000 rushing yards in his career.

Game 11 | Nov. 21, 2009

Tennessee 10 14 0 7 - 31
Vanderbilt 3 7 3 3 - 16

KNOXVILLE - The Volunteers beat in-state rival Vanderbilt 31-16 playing with a third-string linebacker, a walk-on outside linebacker and walk-on placekicker Devin Mathis.

Tennessee entered halftime with the momentum, but Vanderbilt had plenty of chances to take advantage of a Vols defense fielding inexperience players and guys like senior linebacker Rico McCoy, determined to play despite having an injured knee.

Vanderbilt had a chance to tie the game before halftime but stalled on fourth-and-2 with 51 seconds left. Instead, Tennessee drove for a quick touchdown to go up 24-10. Jonathan Crompton's 16-yard TD pass to Luke Stocker capped the drive.

Montario Hardesty ran for a career-high 171 yards and a touchdown.

Crompton's third-quarter interception ended a streak of 142 straight pass attempts without one, one shy of Casey Clausen's school record of 143.

Tennessee called on Mathis for the first time for kicking duties. He hit a 25-yard field goal and connected on four extra point attempts.

Tennessee finished its senior day in style when senior defensive tackle Wes Brown intercepted Adams' pass and ran 25 yards for a touchdown with 3 seconds left.

Game 12 | Nov. 28, 2009

Tennessee 7 7 10 0 6 - 30
Kentucky 14 7 0 3 0 - 24

LEXINGTON, Ky. - Montario Hardesty ripped off a 20-yard touchdown run in overtime to lead the Tennessee Volunteers to a 30-24 win over the Kentucky Wildcats in an SEC showdown at Commonwealth Stadium.

Hardesty's overtime score capped a monster performance in which he carried the ball 39 times for a career-high 179 yards and three scores. Jonathan Crompton orchestrated the Vols offense, completing 13-of-23 attempts for 220 yards and a touchdown.

The Wildcats defense opened up the scoring when Sam Maxwell picked off a Crompton pass and returned it 56 yards for a touchdown to give his team a 7-0 lead. Tennessee responded on the ensuing possession as Hardesty sprinted nine yards for a touchdown.

The Vols took a 24-21 lead in the closing minute of the third quarter when Devin Mathis drilled a 30-yard field goal.

Kentucky managed to tie the game and send it into overtime late in the fourth quarter when Lones Seiber kicked a 23-yard field goal to make it a 24-24 contest at the end of regulation.

The overtime period saw Kentucky go on offense first, but a missed field goal by Seiber left the door open for Tennessee. Hardesty responded immediately with a 20-yard touchdown run to give his team the six-point victory.

■ Montario Hardesty had a career day in his final regular-season game as a Vol, running for 179 yards and three touchdowns against Kentucky. He reached the end zone in overtime on a 20-yard run to cap Tennessee's 30-24 victory.

Game 13 | Dec. 31, 2009 | Chick-fil-A Bowl

Tennessee 0 14 0 0 - 14
Virginia Tech 7 10 7 13 - 37

ATLANTA - Ryan Williams isn't keeping track of his records.

"Someone eventually will break them anyway," Virginia Tech's fantastic redshirt freshman running back said.

Probably, but in just one season, Williams has already made quite an impression.

He capped a brilliant debut season with a record-setting game, running for two touchdowns to power No. 12 Virginia Tech past Tennessee 37-14 in the Chick-fil-A Bowl on Thursday night.

Williams, a redshirt freshman, had 117 yards rushing to become Virginia Tech's single-season rushing leader with 1,655 yards.

Tennessee's star running back, Montario Hardesty, could not keep up with Williams. The Volunteers' senior had 18 carries for 39 yards and a touchdown.

"We got gassed; we got tired," said Tennessee defensive end Chris Walker. "You could tell especially on defense we weren't making plays. Ryan Williams is a really great player."

Tennessee was hurt by two turnovers which led to 10 points for Virginia Tech, and a dropped pass that cost the Vols a touchdown.

"For whatever reason, we didn't play well today," Tennessee coach Lane Kiffin said. "I was surprised we weren't able to run the ball better."

Notes to Know

Guide to the List

This roster consists only of those players who were first-team selections on one or more of the All-America teams selected for the national audience and received nationwide circulation. Not included are numerous players who may have received mentions on second or third teams and others who were selected by newspapers or agencies with circulations not primarily national. The legend below lists those teams recognized by the NCAA that were national media or organizations:

AAB — All America Board (1924-55); AP — Associated Press (1925-Present); Camp — Walter Camp Football Foundation (1967-Present); CP — Central Press (1963-70); Coaches — American Football Coaches Assn. (1945-Present); FbN — Football News (1963-Present); FWAA — Football Writers Assn. of America (1913-Present); Gannett — Gannett News Service; INS — International News Service (1913-57); Lib — Liberty Magazine (1924-41); NWM — Newsweek Magazine (1937-42); NANA — North American Newspaper Alliance (1927-37); NEA — Newspaper Enterprise Assn. (1924-73); NY News — New York Daily News; TSN — The Sporting News (1934-Present); Rice — Grantland Rice (1925-47); Time — Time Magazine; UP — United Press (1925-58); UPI — United Press International (1958-95); Scripps — Scripps Howard Newspapers; NCAA — NCAA Consensus (1889-Present).

By the Numbers

Tennessee's individual All-America selections, who have been recognized a total of 88 times.

Three-time All-America selection: guard Bob Suffridge in 1938, 1939 and 1940. Thirteen (13) other Vols have earned All-America honors twice during their careers.

34

Vols who have earned consensus NCAA All-America honors.

11

Most consecutive years with All-America selections from 1963-73. In those years, Tennessee had 25 total selections.

Most All-Americans in one season, an accomplishment that has occurred two times: 1939 and 1966.

Consider This...

- Tennessee has had one father-son combination All-America selection in Steve DeLong (1963-64) and Keith DeLong (1988). Tennessee has had one brother combination, Johnny Majors (1956) and Bobby Majors (1971).
- Two of Tennessee's All-Americans later became head coaches at their alma mater: Bowden Wyatt (1938) in 1955 and Johnny Majors (1956) in 1977.
- Three of Tennessee's All-America selections made All-America in other sports. All-America punter Ron Widby (1966) was a basketball All-America in 1967. Former Olympian and wide receiver Willie Gault (1982) was a track and field All-America in 1981-83. Richmond Flowers (1967) earned track and field All-America honors in 1968-69.
- All-America selections Bill Johnson (1957), Bob Johnson (1967) and Peyton Manning (1997) also earned Academic All-America honors the same season.

■ Marianela D'Aprile, an honors graduate from Westview High School in Martin, Tenn., was named 2010 recipient of the Peyton Manning Scholarship. She was the 10th in-state winner in the program's 13 years.

Peyton Manning Scholarship

The University of Tennessee honors former Vol quarterback Peyton Manning each year by presenting a scholarship to a first-year student who will participate in UT's Honors program. The scholarship is funded from gifts to the University garnered from Manning's academic awards, the UT Athletic Department's corporate matching grants program and other private gifts.

Manning's four-year career at UT (1994-97) produced a number of awards that generated $165,000 in scholarship funds. Among the awards were the Burger King-Vincent dePaul Draddy National Scholar Athlete of the Year, the Davey O'Brien Foundation Award and the American Honda Scholar-Athlete of the Year.

The Manning Scholarship covers the costs of tuition, room and board for a male or female student. The award is granted to a first-year student on the basis of academic achievement, leadership and community service.

One of the greatest coaches in the history of the game, Gen. Robert R. Neyland is still the yardstick by which all Tennessee football coaches are measured. For 21 years, he led the Volunteers to win after win and championship after championship. His 173 wins, seven conference titles and four national championships set the bar at one of the nation's finest football institutions.

General Robert Reese Neyland

The history and tradition of Tennessee football began under the tutelage of Gen. Robert Reese Neyland, a member of the College Football Hall of Fame. Neyland came to Tennessee as an ROTC instructor and backfield coach in 1925 and was named head football coach in 1926. From that date, Tennessee was in the college football business to stay.

Neyland's 1939 Vol team was the last to shut out each of its regular season opponents. Over the course of his career, 112 of his 216 opponents failed to score against his Tennessee teams. Tennessee still holds an NCAA record for holding opponents scoreless 71 consecutive quarters.

Neyland's teams won Southern Conference Championships in 1927 and 1932, piling up undefeated streaks of 33 and 28 games along the way, and SEC Championships in 1938, 1939, 1940, 1946 and 1951. In addition Neyland-coached teams won four national championships. The Vols were consensus national champions in 1951, won the Dunkel, Litkenhous, Boand, Houlgate and Poling National Championships in 1938, the Dunkel and Williamson crowns in 1940 and the DeVold and Dunkel crowns in 1950.

It was Gene McEver who kicked off the Neyland era with his 98-yard return of the opening kickoff in the 1928 Alabama game, a game the underdog Vols won 15-13. Each of his succeeding eras would be highlighted by similar big plays: Johnny Butler's 56-yard run against Alabama in 1939 and Lauricella's 75-yard run against Texas in the 1951 Cotton Bowl.

Neyland's 21-year record at Tennessee was 173 wins, 31 losses and 12 ties. Neyland, who came to Tennessee as an Army captain and left as a brigadier general, brought one of the most efficient single-wing offenses in the country to go with an unyielding defense. He was brought to the head coaching position by Dean Nathan Dougherty with a simple injunction: "Do something about the series with Vanderbilt."

After Neyland's death in 1962, the University established the Robert R. Neyland Scholarship, academic scholarships awarded to non-athletes, many of whom are National Merit Scholars. The endowment for these scholarships now exceeds $1.5 million and 124 students have been the beneficiary of the awards.

The thoroughfare behind the stadium's South end, once called the river road, is now named Neyland Drive. More recently, the Vol football complex on campus was named for Neyland and Knoxville businessman B. Ray Thompson.

Records vs. Opponents

■ Tennessee beat Alabama seven-consecutive times from 1995-2001. No other school has ever bested the Tide in seven straight meetings. The Vols kicked off this tear with a 41-14 victory over Alabama at Legion Field in Birmingham. Peyton Manning scored on a naked bootleg to give the Vols a 21-0 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

1894 and 1895 — No Official Team

In October 1894, the Athletic Association resolved to drop varsity football and look forward to baseball in the spring. After the humiliating 1893 season (two wins and four imposing defeats), only two athletes willing to admit they had played on the 1893 team returned to campus in 1894. To complicate matters further, the practice field, located just west of the main entrance to the Hill, was being graded and improved.

Soon after this decision, W.B. Stokely, a UT senior who transferred from Wake Forest, persuaded a group of students to form a team. Stokely, who was elected captain, gave encouragement and direction to the other players. Even though the institution chose not to be represented officially on the gridiron, Stokely and his unofficial team kept football interest alive during this period when almost certainly it otherwise would have been allowed to lapse completely.

These unofficial games, referred to as "The Lost Years" are not included in NCAA statistics or in official University of Tennessee won-lost records.

1917-1918 — No team — WORLD WAR I

The University of Tennessee Athletic Council, chaired by Professor Nathan W. Dougherty, officially suspended varsity football during the World War I years of 1917 and 1918 because the majority of the players were called into military service. In addition, Coach John R. Bender was enlisted as an instructor at Camp John Sevier in Greenville, S.C.

During this period without varsity football, two unofficial teams were formed from Army recruits and students. One team represented a training unit called the Fighting Mechanics and another the Student Army Training Corps (SATC).

R.R. NEYLAND (1946-52)
 General Neyland's retirement from military service enabled him to devote full time to coaching and building one of the most powerful programs in the nation. He produced the national championship team in 1951 and took the Vols to three straight major bowl appearances. Poor health in 1952 forced his retirement to athletic director, a position he held until his death in 1962. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1956. His record for this period was 54-17-4. Coaching record: 173-31-12.

*First overtime game in Neyland Stadium and for Tennessee

The University of Tennessee

■ In the words of legendary Vol Network broadcaster John Ward, "pandemonium reigns," as sixth-ranked Tennessee defeated No. 2 Florida 20-17 in Neyland Stadium's first overtime game. The Gators' potential game-tying field goal attempt missed wide left.

■ Rocky Top

Felice and Boudleaux Bryant's "Rocky Top" — written in 10 minutes at the Gatlinburg Inn in 1967 — has captured the fancy of Vol fans everywhere and is a much-requested and much-played song at UT sporting events. First performed as part of a halftime country music show at the 1972 Tennessee-Alabama game, the song is now so beloved that longtime UT band director W.J. Julian said that not playing it would cause a mutiny among Vol fans.

■ The Power T

The famed letter "T" debuted on Tennessee's helmets in 1964 as Doug Dickey assumed the coaching reins. Johnny Majors had the 'T' slightly redesigned when he was named head coach in 1977. Dickey also brought another Tennessee tradition to life when he started the Vols running through a giant "T" formed by the band.

■ Pride of the Southland Band

UT's band was organized immediately after the Civil War. Since then, enrollment in the band program has grown to more than 400 students. Director of Bands, Dr. Gary Sousa, heads up a program that has maintained a long-standing reputation as one of the nation's finest musical organizations. The band first marched in a 6-0 victory over Sewanee in 1902. In 1969 "The Pride" formed and opened the "T" against Army in another Vol victory.

■ Orange and White

The colors Orange and White were selected by Charles Moore, a member of the first football team in 1891, and later were approved by a vote of the student body. The colors were those of the common American daisy which grew in profusion on The Hill. Tennessee players did not appear in the now-famous Orange jerseys until the season opening game in 1922.

■ Smokey

The Tennessee students voted to select a live coonhound mascot to represent the school in 1953. The late Rev. Bill Brooks entered his prize-winning Bluetick Coonhound, "Brooks' Blue Smokey," in the selection contest. At halftime of the Mississippi State game that season, the dogs were introduced over the loudspeaker and the student body cheered for their favorite, with "Blue Smokey" responding to the fans with a bark of his own to secure the victory. The Smokey lineage — nine dogs in all — has stayed under the care of either Rev. Brooks' or his wife's family ever since. Smokey is famous for leading the Vols out of the giant "T" prior to each home game. Smokey IX has been serving since the 2004 season.

■ Vol Navy

Former Vol broadcaster George Mooney found a quicker way to get to Neyland Stadium in 1962 other than fighting the Knoxville traffic. Mooney navigated his little runabout down the Tennessee River to the stadium and spawned what would later become the "Vol Navy." Tennessee and Washington are the only institutions with football stadiums adjacent to bodies of water.

■ Checkerboard End Zones

The unique design accompanied coach Doug Dickey's arrival in 1964 when the Vols played Boston College. The colorful and popular end zones were a part of Tennessee football until 1968 when the natural sod was dug out and artificial turf was put in its place. The tradition was reinstated with the new artificial turf in 1989 and has continued with the transformation to natural grass in 1994. The checkerboard end zones also now appear at Thompson-Boling Arena.

■ Neyland Stadium Master Plan Renovations

In November 2004, the Tennessee athletics department unveiled its master plan for Neyland Stadium to serve as a long-term solution for the issues currently facing the home of the Vols and to prepare the stadium for the next 75 years. The master plan was created in a phased approach. Each phase is independent to ensure that funding is available for each phase before it begins. There are additional phases still to be completed.

2008	Phase II: West-Side Club (425 seats)/Press Box
2010	Phase III: West Side Terrace (1,800 seats)/Gate 21 Plaza	Stadium Capacity: 102,455

Neyland Stadium/Shields-Watkins Field

The present day Neyland Stadium, Shields-Watkins Field had its beginning in 1919. Col. W.S. Shields, president of Knoxville's City National Bank and a UT trustee, provided the initial capital to prepare and equip an athletic field. Thus, when the field was completed in March 1921 it was called Shields-Watkins field, in honor of the donor and his wife, Alice Watkins-Shields.

The stadium, apart from the field it grew to enclose, came to bear its own distinguished name: Neyland Stadium. It was named for the man most responsible for the growth and development of Tennessee's proud football tradition. General Robert R. Neyland served as head coach from 1926 to 1952, with two interruptions for military service. After retiring from the coaching ranks, Neyland was athletic director until his death in 1962. He was the guiding force behind additions to the stadium's capacity, and is the one most responsible for the winning tradition that Volunteers fans have come to expect over the years.

First Bowl -- An Unofficial Victory

It didn't count, at least according to NCAA statisticians, but Tennessee's first post-season bowl appearance came in the 1931 Charity Bowl game at Yankee Stadium.

The game was one of a number of contests played during the Great Depression (mainly in 1931) to raise money for relief of the unemployed in response to the President's Committee on Mobilization of Relief Resources.

Tennessee Bowl History Paved With Opportunity, Big Plays and National Championship Scenarios

When bowl matchmakers begin the mental calculations leading toward their annual holiday events, Tennessee is one of a select group of universities that always receives thoughtful consideration.

Traditionally, the Vols consistently provide an exciting bowl-game spectacle with high-powered offense and grudging defense. But that's just one of many reasons Tennessee is a bowl promoter's dream.

UT's other irresistible lure is its legions of fans, a collection of devoted supporters who bathe a neutral bowl site in a sea of orange worthy of a game at Neyland Stadium. The Vol faithful are good travelers who arrive at the game site early and make themselves seen and heard until they leave town.

Tennessee has appeared in 47 bowl games, of which a couple stand out as particularly memorable because of the bearing they had on producing two of the school's national championships.

In the early years of wire service polls, the national champion was selected at the end of the regular season. Bowl results were not part of the evaluation process. But Tennessee's Cotton Bowl victory over Texas after the 1950 season was invaluable in paving the way for the crown UT claimed in 1951.

The 20-14 upset of the Longhorns in Dallas on New Year's Day made the Vols the team to beat going into the next season. When the curtain fell on the 1951 campaign, Tennessee had ridden the momentum of its Cotton Bowl triumph to the national title as awarded by both wire service polls.

Forty-seven years later, a bowl game was crucial to another UT national championship claim. In the first officially sanctioned Bowl Championship Series title game, the Vols met Florida State in a matchup of the two top-ranked teams at the close of the season.

Led by the passing of quarterback Tee Martin, the Vols capped an undefeated season by turning back the Seminoles, 23-16, before a capacity crowd at the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl in Tempe, Ariz. National championship pandemonium reigned throughout the night at any place Vol fans were gathered.

The significance of bowl games is in the eye of the individual, however, so you can pick among more than two dozen UT victories for your favorites. Certainly some of the other leaders would include: 1939 Orange Bowl (Vols 17, Oklahoma 0), 1965 Bluebonnet Bowl (Vols 27, Tulsa 6), 1971 Liberty Bowl (Vols 14, Arkansas 13), 1986 Sugar Bowl (Vols 35, Miami 7), 1990 Cotton Bowl (Vols 31, Arkansas 27), 1996 Citrus Bowl (Vols 20, Ohio State 14), 2002 Citrus Bowl (Vols 45, Michigan 17) and 2005 Cotton Bowl (Vols 38, Texas A&M 7).

Since the inception of wire service polls, Tennessee has frequently placed among the nation's leaders in the national rankings. The Associated Press poll, which began in 1936, the United Press International poll, running from 1950 until 1991, and the CNN-USA Today poll lasting from 1982 until 1997, when it became the ESPN/USA Today poll, all reflect the lofty standings of the Vols in the eyes of coaches, sports writers and broadcasters. Tennessee won the 1951 and 1998 national championships in all polls and finished No. 2 in 1938, 1939, 1956, 1967 and 1995. The Vols have been awarded other national championships as determined by different points and ratings systems in effect at the time. UT earned national titles in 1938 and 1940 according to both the Dunkel and Litkenhous Systems. The Vols were named national champs in 1950 by Dunkel and in 1967 by Litkenhous. The 1951 title was also honored by both the Litkenhous and Williamson Systems.

► Tennessee as No. 1

Tennessee ended the 1951 and 1998 seasons ranked No. 1 in the major wire service polls. The 1998 Vols were crowned national champion by the Associated Press and ESPN/USA Today-Coaches poll, while the 1951 Vols were honored by both the AP and UPI polls. In addition, the Vols have held down the nation's top spot on 15 different occasions in the history of the weekly Associated Press poll and have a 15-0 mark in those games. UT's next game results after an AP No. 1 ranking are listed below.

► Tennessee vs. No. 1

In its 100 plus-year history, Tennessee has been involved in 10 contests in which the Vols' opponent was ranked No. 1 in the country.

UT has a 2-8 all-time record when playing the nation's top-ranked team.

The most recent home game between Tennessee and the No. 1 rated team was against Miami (Fla.) Nov. 9, 2002, in Knoxville.

The Vols' two victories against a No. 1 team have come against Southeastern Conference foes.

Tennessee, ranked No. 13, edged Louisiana State 14-13 Nov. 7, 1959, in Knoxville, to knock the Tigers out of the top spot.

On Sept. 28, 1985, the Vols, 0-0-1 and unranked at the time, soundly defeated top-rated Auburn 38-20 in Knoxville. The 1985 Vols went on to win the SEC Championship and finish No. 4 nationally in all polls.

Last Time in the National Polls

Throughout its history, the University of Tennessee football program has been a regular member of the Associated Press and, more recently, the ESPN/USA Today Coaches polls.

Below is a listing of the last time the Vols were ranked in a particular position in each poll.

Tennessee's last No. 1 ranking came at the end of the 1998 football season after Tennessee's 23-16 win over Florida State in the Tostitos Fiesta Bowl Jan. 4, 1999.

The win garnered Tennessee the undisputed national championship thanks in part to the advent of the Bowl Championship Series, which matched the top two teams in the land in a fight for the national title.

Tennessee Lettermen's T-Club

The University of Tennessee Lettermen's T-Club is open to any person who has been awarded a varsity letter in any NCAA sanctioned sport at UT and is interested in the purposes of the organization. All members who have paid their annual dues should be known as an active member with rights and privileges according to the bylaws.

The Athletic Department, under Mike Hamilton, has made it a top priority to create a warm atmosphere for former Vol athletes on those happy occasions when they return to campus for a visit.

And now, they have a place to congregate in majestic opulence on Saturdays before Tennessee football games. The Lauricella Center for Letterwinners, which opened in the fall of 2008, is located in the northwest corner of Neyland Stadium and constitutes the perfect gathering place. The Center is open two hours before kickoff to lettermen and their guests each home game.

The business office for the Lettermen's "T" Club is located in Thompson-Boling Arena.

Retired Numbers

The 2005 ceremonies to retire the jerseys of Doug Atkins (91), Peyton Manning (16) and Reggie White (92) brought the list of retired jersey numbers at Tennessee to seven. This includes the four former Vol players, Clyde (Ig) Fuson (62), Rudy Klarer (49), Bill Nowling (32), and Willis Tucker (61), who died in World War II and had their jerseys retired in 1946. Ceremonies were held during the 2006 UT-Air Force game to officially memorialize those four players kills in World War II.

16 Peyton Manning
 Ceremony Oct. 29, 2005

Manning is the most decorated athlete in UT history. He left Tennessee as the SEC's all-time leading passer with 11,201 yards, setting 42 passing records during his Vols career that included two NCAA, seven SEC and 33 UT marks.

Off the field, Manning won the Draddy Award as National Scholar-Athlete of the Year in 1997 and graduated in three years with a degree in speech communications. He graduated with the highest grade-point average (3.61) in his field.

During his pro career, Manning has earned Pro Bowl honors 10 times in his 12 seasons played and garnered an NFL-record four MVP awards (2004, 05, 08, 09). Manning has led the Colts to two Super Bowl appearances (XLI & XLIV) including XLI MVP honors following a 29-17 triumph over the Chicago Bears.

He threw an NFL-record 49 touchdown passes in 2004 and already has 366 for his career. Manning's career total of 50,128 passing yards stands fourth on the NFL all-time list.

Retiring Jerseys

In 2005, Tennessee instituted criteria to retire additional numbers. Those criteria include, but are not limited to: candidates must be recognized as good citizens and have a minimum of five years between the candidate's UT football career and consideration of this honor. A candidate must have achieved three of the following five collegiate honors: induction into the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame, Southeastern Conference (SEC) Player of the Year, Consensus All-America, Heisman Trophy winner, and have won one of the following general athletic/academic or non-position specific awards: Sullivan Award, SEC Athlete of the Year (all sports) or Draddy Award.

92 Reggie White
 Ceremony Oct. 1, 2005

White, who died Dec. 26, 2004, at the age of 43, collected a school-record 32 sacks in his four years with the Vols to establish himself as the most prolific pass rusher in Tennessee history. Fifteen of those sacks came in his senior year of 1983, a campaign former Vols head coach Phillip Fulmer called the "most individually dominant season I've ever seen."

Known as the "Minister of Defense," White went on to a 17-year pro football career, retiring as the NFL's all-time sack leader with 198. He was elected to the College Football Hall of Fame in 2002. He graduated from Tennessee in 1990.

91 Doug Atkins
 Ceremony Nov. 19, 2005

Doug Atkins is considered by many to be the greatest defensive end in football history. After originally signing with UT on a basketball scholarship, Atkins went on to gridiron All-America status in 1952, was the only player to be unanimously named to the All-SEC Quarter Century Team (1950-74) and was selected SEC Player of the Quarter Century. Atkins retired with the most NFL games played (205) by a defensive lineman. The Vols went 29-3-1 with Atkins on the field and won the 1951 national championship.

Four Vols who died during World War II had their jerseys retired in 1946. Ceremonies were held in 2006.

62 Clyde (Ig) Fuson (March 11, 1923 — Dec. 4, 1944), a native of Middlesboro, Ky., and fullback on the 1942 team, shared playing time with Nowling. Ig had a younger brother, Herschel (Ug) Fuson, who was a freshman on the 1942 team.

49 Rudy Klarer (March 9, 1923 — Jan. 6, 1945) was a reserve guard in 1941 and starter in 1942, from Louisville, Ky.

32 Bill Nowling (Aug. 8, 1920 — Aug. 9, 1944), a fullback 1940-42, from St. Petersburg, Fla., was a three-year starter.

61 Willis Tucker (May 10, 1918 — Nov. 28, 1944), a graduate of Knoxville High School, earned a Vol football letter in 1940 and was a sprint star on the track team.

Dr. Jan Simek
Interim University President

Dr. Jan Simek has been interim president of the University of Tennessee since July 1, 2009. Dr. Simek previously serves as acting president for four months and interim chancellor of UT Knoxville for one year.

In his current role, Dr. Simek serves as the chief executive officer of a statewide university system that includes the flagship campus in Knoxville, campuses in Chattanooga and Martin, the Health Science Center in Memphis, the Space Institute in Tullahoma, and statewide institutes of agriculture and public service.

As president, Dr. Simek serves as chairman of the UT-Battelle Board of Governors and as a member of the University of Tennessee Board of Trustees.

Most of Dr. Simek's academic career has been spent at UT Knoxville, where he has served in various academic and administrative posts with the campus over a 25-year period.

Dr. Simek previously served as interim chancellor of UT Knoxville for one year and before that was chief of staff to former Chancellor Loren Crabtree from 2005 to 2008.

Dr. Simek is an archaeologist who came to UT in 1984 as an assistant professor of anthropology. He is now a Distinguished Professor of Anthropology and has served as head of the Anthropology Department, the interim director of the School of Art and interim dean of the College of Architecture and Design.

Dr. Simek earned a bachelor's degree from the University of California at Santa Cruz and a master's and doctorate from the State University of New York in Binghamton.

He has carried out archaeological research in France, Italy, Croatia, California and Tennessee and received research funding from the National Science Foundation, the National Geographic Society and the French Ministry of Culture. He has held visiting faculty appointments at the University of Washington, the University of Bordeaux and the Autonomous University of Barcelona, Spain.

Dr. Simek and his wife, Mary Ann, live in Seymour, Tenn.

Mike Hamilton Director of Athletics

Mike Hamilton has a vision for leading the University of Tennessee to become the national standard of achievement in intercollegiate athletics.

Since Hamilton became Director of Athletics in 2003, Tennessee has placed in the top 20 of the Director's Cup five times (including a pair of top-10 finishes), brought home four national titles, 14 SEC or SEC divisional championships, and produced 156 All-Americans.

On the academic front, Tennessee has produced 10 first-team Academic All-Americans, two SEC Scholar Athletes of the Year, 975 Academic All-SEC honors and had 372 student-athletes earn degrees. In addition, 26 former student-athletes who left to pursue professional athletic careers have returned to finish their degrees through the Renewing Academic Commitment (RAC) program administered by the Thornton Athletics Student Life Center.

In the 2008-09 school year, 42.2 percent of student-athletes earned a 3.0 GPA in the fall with 50 percent earning that same mark in the spring. During the 2009 season, 11 UT football players competed as graduate students, while five are working toward a second degree.

Prior to being named athletics director, Hamilton spent 11 years in the UT athletics development office. During his stint there, the department saw donations rise from $5 million in 1992 to $19.5 million in 2003. Donations rose to $42 million in 2008 and UT Athletics has implemented a zero-based budgeting model to create a reserve of more than $9 million to ensure UT can continue to be one of a handful of athletics departments in the country receiving no funds from state subsidies or taxes.

As visionary of the Neyland Stadium Master Plan, unveiled in the fall of 2004, Hamilton is ensuring that Neyland Stadium will be around for generations of Vol fans to come. One key goal of the master plan, which is being completed in five phases, was to fund the renovations without overburdening the general fan primarily through the use of premium seat opportunities and targeted philanthropic gifts.

Now in Phase III, Neyland Stadium already has seen renovations to the concourses, concessions and restrooms in the west and northwest areas of the stadium as well as renovations to the locker room, the addition of a field level Lettermen's Room and new media center, brick work around the field level, renovated west side skyboxes and press level, and the addition of the East Club and West Club, which are primary funding models for the renovations. By the 2010 season, more than 60 percent of the stadium will be completely renovated.

In addition to the Neyland Stadium Master Plan, Hamilton also has overseen the creation of the Allan Jones Intercollegiate Aquatic Center, Regal Soccer Stadium, Lee Softball Stadium and Pratt Pavilion basketball practice facility. In addition, improvements have been made to Thompson-Boling Arena and Lindsey Nelson Stadium to ensure that UT has the best facilities to give its student-athletes and coaches the resources to compete for championships every season.

Under Hamilton's watch, Tennessee secured a partnership with IMG College worth a minimum of $133 million between 2007 and 2022. This extension provided additional funding that allows Vol fans to enjoy a new HD video board at Neyland Stadium beginning with the 2009 season.

In addition to athletics facility upgrades, Hamilton has placed a focus on giving back to the school and the community through a variety of ways. For fiscal year 2009, the athletics department contributed more than $6.26 million in direct cash support to the University.

The athletics department also provides indirect benefits to the University of more than $24 million through athletics benefits to UT employees and students through: free or reduced rate tickets to sporting events; licensing revenue; player-of-the-game scholarships; use of football skyboxes for University purposes; as well as utilities' costs and maintenance expenses for athletics facilities, which are centrally funded for other campus units.

Hamilton joined UT as Assistant Athletics Director for Development in 1992 and worked his way up to Senior Associate Athletics Director for External Operations in 2002 before being named Director of Athletics.

Hamilton is married to the former Elizabeth Merrill, also from Brevard. They are parents of a daughter, Madison, and a son, Matthew, and the family recently welcomed three children – two sons, Natnael Edward, 7, and Kiya Isaiah, 4, and an infant daughter, McKinley Kalu – from Ethiopia.

SEC Championship Game

■ The Basics

Day: Dec. 4

Time: 4 p.m. ET

Location: Georgia Dome in Atlanta

TV: CBS

■ General Information

The Southeastern Conference's Eastern and Western Division winners will meet in Atlanta's Georgia Dome (capacity 71,500) to battle for the league championship and the right to represent the conference in the Bowl Championship Series. The 18th-annual title game is set for Dec. 4 and will be nationally televised by CBS Sports (4 p.m. Eastern).

The game is a result of conference expansion, which saw Arkansas and South Carolina become the first members added in SEC history.

The participants of the game are determined each year during the eight-game regular-season conference schedule as the teams with the best overall SEC winning percentage in each division.

Don't Miss a Second of the 2010 Action with the Vol Network

For more than 50 years, the Vol Network has served as the main communications link between University of Tennessee athletics and its fans. Since 1989 Host Communications operated the Vol Network and managed the media and marketing rights for University of Tennessee athletics.

In November of 2007 Host Communications became IMG College, a division of IMG. IMG is recognized as the world's premier sports, entertainment and media company.

Vol Network Broadcast Team

Entering his 12th season, Bob Kesling is the play-by-play voice of Tennessee football on radio and the host of "Vol Calls" and "The Derek Dooley TV Show." He is a four-time recipient of the "Sportscaster of the Year" award for the state of Tennessee.

Former All-SEC defensive back Tim Priest serves as the Network's color analyst, and former Vol offensive lineman Mike Stowell (1989-92) returns for his fourth season as sideline reporter.

Studio host John Wilkerson hosts the popular "Kickoff Call-In Show" beginning 90 minutes before each game. Brent Hubbs and a team of Vol Network veterans contribute to the six-and-one-half hour network football broadcast.

Vol Calls

The Vol Network's weekly prime time call-in show "Vol Calls" featuring Coach Derek Dooley airs statewide every Wednesday night from 8-9 p.m. ET / 7-8 p.m. CT. The show originates live from the Texas Roadhouse across from West Town Mall.

Big Orange Hotline

The Vol Network's Monday night football review/preview show "Big Orange Hotline" featuring Bob Kesling and Pat Ryan debuts in 2010.

The show originates live from Dead End BBQ on Sutherland Avenue and is heard in most of the major markets in the state and airs from 8-9 p.m. ET / 7-8 p.m. CT.

Derek Dooley TV Show

During the football season, the hour-long television program, the "Derek Dooley TV Show," will be aired throughout the state and southeast region.
